Delegates to the state council convention of the Carpenters and Joiners of America, which is being held in the Woodmen's hall, adjourned sessions at 11:30 this morning to attend the picnic sponsored by the Beaver and Shenango Valley council, where they will be special guests.

This morning's session was devoted to the addresses of David Williams, director of Industrial Relations of the Department of Labor and Industry, and Labor Conciliator Peter Bollenbacher of Pittsburgh in addition to reports of committees and officers.

Tells of Cooperation

Mr. Williams told of the fine cooperation existing between the state and the labor organizations, which has been manifested in the many meetings between the representatives of the department and committees from the various organizations during the past year, and asked the Carpenters to continue these splendid relations.

Reports were rendered by President N. F. Storm, secretary and treasurer, Thomas H. Burns; fraternal

That is a big bite that the steam shovel took out of the mountain on the east side of Harlansburg in order to make "fill ins" on the Perry highway!

Day by day Grant street is being paved more and more. Pa New is just itching to drive over the half that is already paved, but it is not open to traffic as yet and so it is probable that Pa New shall wait. But it won't be very long folks if the work keeps on progressing as fast as it has during the past several weeks.

Now we ask you—why are there no bathers at the beaches basking in the summer sunshine? Could it be that this weather is too chilly?

Pa New heard a man say this morning that now is the time to plan a picnic because there is sure not to be any rain. And he added, "But if by any chance it should rain, why that would be alright too." Now there is an optimist for you!

FOOD PROFITEERING RACKET UNCOVERED IN NEW YORK CITY

Grand Jury Probe In Metropolitan Promises Some Sensations

Retail Dealers In Milk And Eggs Are Racket Ridden, It Is Shown

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A new, high powered organization of "racketeers"—operating mysteriously and ruthlessly—is running up the cost of living in New York City by conducting a campaign of terror against legitimate business. This sinister condition was revealed at the state attorney's inquiry into food profiteering, which resumed its probe today with the promise of further startling disclosures.

More To Come

"You've heard nothing yet, compared to the exposures that are coming," declared Assistant Attorney General William B. Groat, Jr., who has questioned two dozen witnesses who told stories of destruction of property by gangsters, extortion and even death threats. "We are on the trail of a ruthless gang of guerrillas who are waxing rich by profiteering at the city's expense, and we shall do our utmost to bring them before the bar of justice."

A picture of racket-ridden retail dealers in milk and eggs and intimidated independent truckmen has been portrayed by witnesses at the investigation which consists of two inquiries—a milk inquiry and a general food inquiry. One witness said he had been told he would be "bumped off" unless he changed his source of supply; another got a "punch in the nose" when he refused to head picketing truckmen and other truckmen who wouldn't "conform" had the tires of their trucks slashed. Armed police protection has already been asked in one instance, so ominous has the situation become. Groat said he had requested Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney to supply protection for the Utah Poultry Producers Association's offices in Greenwich street. "We'll see that anybody who wants to buy eggs from this wholesaler can do so," said Groat. "No gangsters are going to stop them."

SOUTHERN MOB LYNCHES NEGRO

Young Negro Taken From Jail And Hanged To Tree

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

TARBOUR, N. C., Aug. 19.—Stomping the Edgecombe county jail here and overpowering a jailer to gain possession of its quarry, a mob of more than 200 men early today lynched Oliver Moore, 29-year-old Negro, charged with criminally assaulting two small white girls.

The negro's body was found hanging to a tree by county officers an hour after he had been taken from the jail. He was hanged within a few hundred feet of his farm home and near the scene of his alleged attacks upon the girls.

The attack on the jail came as a complete surprise. The Negro had been arrested last week on charges of attacking two children, aged five and seven.

At a preliminary hearing yesterday there was no indication of mob violence, and county authorities, fearing no trouble, did not place extra guards over the jail.

Shortly before midnight the mob suddenly appeared before the prison and demanded the Negro. Pushing through the door, they overpowered the lone jailer, took his keys, removed the Negro and drove off.

Until the day when corn harvest actually begins, at the southern fringe of the corn raising country, nobody will know just what the crop will be, or how much the dry weather in the central valley has cut it down.

It is plain enough that the total for the whole country will be below normal. But the damage from drought is nearly always less than the first reports, just as the first cloud-burst stories, with hundreds of people drowned, usually simmer down to a fatality list of sixteen chickens and a pig.

Most plants have strong powers of recuperation, as long as their roots remain undamaged. They can "come back" in a surprising manner. And

Rescued Crew And Passengers Near Pago Pago

Nearly 300 Taken Off Tahiti Are Reported As Safe And Well

FURTHER DETAILS OF SINKING GIVEN

Norwegian Freighter Reached Scene First And Stood By For Emergency

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The Matson liner Ventura was reported steaming safely toward the port of Pago Pago today bearing the 104 passengers and 157 crew members of the sunken steamer Tahiti. Early reports to local steamship offices had reported the Ventura docked at Pago Pago but direct cables from the island furnished the information that the Matson line would not arrive there until late this evening.

All the rescued passengers aboard the Ventura were reported none the worse from what might have proved a major disaster of the sea.

The Tahiti had been in distress for three days after losing her starboard propeller.

Passengers Transferred.

The passengers and crew were transferred to the Ventura in small boats without mishap despite the heavy swells. The Ventura then headed for Pago Pago.

Captain Meyer's heroic run through uncharted seas to the Tahiti's side was highly praised by those he rescued. He said his trip would have been a speedy one had he arrived 18 hours later, considering the treacherous waters through which he had to pick his way. The route is studded with submerged shoals and coral reefs.

Additional details of the marine disaster were revealed today by the commandant of the naval station at Tutuila, Samoa.

CAR SKIDS ON HILL NORTH OF EDENBURG

Hill Had Been Recently Oiled And Was In A Very Slippery Condition

Edward Petrick, 8 year old son of Mrs. Levada Petrick of Hillsville, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital this morning, as a result of injuries received in an auto accident near Edenburg about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. Levada Petrick, mother of the boy, is in the hospital suffering from bruises about the body, and Hazel, her seven year old daughter is suffering from a broken nose and other injuries as a result of the accident in which Edward was fatally injured.

Mrs. Petrick, who is a widow, was returning from Franklin, Pa., where she had attended the funeral of an uncle, William Ford. She was driving a coupe with a rumble seat, Edward was in the rumble seat and Hazel was in the front seat with her mother.

Sudden Death Of Mrs. Ella Gibson

About To Light Gas In Kitchen Stove When She Was Fatally Stricken

Death came suddenly to Mrs. Ella Gibson, wife of J. F. Gibson of Slippery Rock township, Monday at her home on the Frew Mill road. Mrs. Gibson, who was 67 years of age had not been feeling well for several days, but had been able to attend to her household duties.

On Monday morning, when Mr. Gibson went to his work in the fields, Mrs. Gibson appeared better than she had been on Sunday. When Mr. Gibson came in about noon Mrs. Gibson was just preparing to get dinner. She stooped down to light the gas in the cook stove, and immediately exclaimed, "Oh, my heart!" Mr. Gibson ran to her and assisted her to a couch. He saw at once that she was in a critical condition and summoned a physician. The doctor found Mrs. Gibson dead when he arrived. Death had been caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Gibson was the daughter of the late John Boozel of Plaingrove. She was married to J. F. Gibson 44 years ago. She was a member of the Herman Presbyterian church and has always taken an active interest in church work.

She is survived by her husband, J. F. Gibson, five brothers, John, Walter, Homer, Nelson and Elmer, Boozel of West Sunbury, Butler county, and one sister Mrs. Betty Bunney of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services Wednesday at 2 p. m., Eastern Standard time, from the Herman Presbyterian church.

Banquet of the Grand Temple, Pythian Sisters, honoring the present Grand Temple Officers and past grand temple officers and attended by members of the Pythian Sisters and Knights of Pythias to the number of 193, was an event of Tuesday evening in the ballroom of The Castleton and was a decidedly brilliant and successful affair.

The banquet hall was a bower of beauty with the tasteful arrangement of the colors of the organization, cut flowers and the many beautifully gowned women.

The program of the evening included an address of welcome to the assembled visitors, the response to the same, a brief talk on the new Pythian Sisters Home for Aged members at Kinross, Pa., and the presentation of gifts to the grand chief and others in attendance at the event.

Pep singing was one of the pleasing diversions of the affair and was

Schneider Completes Continental Flight

Edward Schneider Congratulated For New Junior Trans-Continental Record

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 19.—Edward Schneider, 19-year-old Jersey City school boy, was receiving congratulations today on the new junior transcontinental flight record he established here last night at the completion of a cross-continental airplane dash.

Young Schneider completed his flight from Jersey City in 19 hours 41 minutes flying time when he landed his Cessna cabin plane at the municipal airport here at 7:13 o'clock last night. Flood lights aided the youth in landing.

The new record supplants that set by the late Frank Goldsborough last May 4 when he flew from coast to coast in 34 hours, 3 minutes. Goldsborough died following a crash in the Vermont mountains on July 16.

Poor visibility delayed Schneider's arrival here after he was forced down earlier in the day at Ontario. Taking off from Ontario at 5:19 p. m. the young flier later landed at Long Beach, got his bearings and 20 minutes later set his plane down here.

Official welcome and welcome of the lodges and temples of this district to the Grand Lodge Of Pennsylvania, Knights of Pythias and Grand Temple of Pennsylvania, Pythian Sisters, was an event of the morning at nine o'clock in the auditorium of the Cathedral and marked the time of the formal joint opening session of the two state organizations.

The hundreds of delegates from all parts of the state were in attendance and the program was brief but most impressive. An unusual and touching feature of the occasion occurred at the close of the program, when William C. Hess of Robert Blum Lodge, presented to his son, C. W. Ballot Case Is Being Argued

Luzerne County Ballot Controversy Before Supreme Court

NOMINATION OF GOVERNOR AT STAKE

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—The State Supreme Court after listening to arguments of counsel for Francis Shunk Brown and Gifford Pinchot in the Luzerne county forfeited ballot dispute took the case under advisement at 1:15 p. m. this afternoon.

The court merely announced a recess at the completion of arguments for both sides giving observers the belief a decision may be expected later today.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—A crowded courtroom on the fifth floor of Philadelphia's famous City Hall formed the stage today for the hearing by the state supreme court on the bitterly argued question as to whether Gifford Pinchot or Francis Shunk Brown is entitled to the nomination of the Republican party for the governorship of Pennsylvania.

The question as put before the high court is to determine whether or not the use of perforated ballots in Luzerne county in the primary battle of May 20th was legal or illegal. If the court decides, however, that the ballots were illegal and in consequence the 60,000 votes cast in the county should be thrown out, then Brown becomes the legally elected nominee and Pinchot loses his claims to the nomination as recognized by the state election board.

Four Justices Hear Case
Four of the seven justices of the high court heard the arguments as presented by a brilliant array of attorneys representing the two interested men. They were: Justice Robert Frazier of Pittsburgh, who presided, and Justices William I. Schaffer, Sylvester B. Sadler and Emory A. Walling.

Conferences among the attorneys for Brown and Pinchot preceded the actual hearing in the ballot dispute. Surprisingly enough, however, the appeal growing out of the Luzerne common pleas court decision upholding the legality of the perforated ballots was not the first question to come up when court finally convened an hour before noon.

The first move was a motion to dismiss Brown's appeal filed by William A. Schnader, deputy state attorney general, and chief counsel for Pinchot. In a brief filed with the court Schnader argued the jurists have no jurisdiction in the case.

"You are now within the realm of an election contest and the state legislature is the only tribunal which can handle an election contest over the governorship," he said.

There was little expectation, however, that the court would grant Schnader's plea. The court is expected, though, by most observers, to render a decision favorable to Pinchot inasmuch as it is contended the ballots used in two other counties of the state also contained marks in the margins.

John Hampton Barnes, chief counsel for the Pennsylvania railroad, was present as chief of Brown's legal staff.

A mining company had an agreement to deliver a specified number of tons of ore to a smelting concern. One of the provisions of the contract between the two stipulated that after the delivery of a certain number of tons, the ore was to be assayed, and on the basis of the assay the price was to be estimated and paid.

The mining company carried out its agreement and the ore was delivered as required.

The smelting concern consisted of two partners. One day the partners decided to separate and one sold his share of the business to the other, including all contracts. Still the mining company continued to deliver the ore to the remaining owner as before. But presently this owner of the concern decided he would sell out and did.

But to this concern the mining company refused to deliver any more ore. So the new smelting company sued.

vere drought that has devastated the fields in the central and southern sections, is at least something that makes farmers here feel better. Secretary of Agriculture C. G. Jordan explains that our condition is not so bad.

One of these days Pa News expects to see one of those Highland avenue speeders caught. It seems as if there are a few motorists who feel 60 or more isn't too much for that street. And Highland avenue doesn't happen to be the only street they do their Barney Oldfield on.

The Vice President of the United States, Charles Curtis, may pass through New Castle on Saturday. He has been invited to attend a ceremony in Sharon honoring Secretary of Labor James J. On August 28 there's going to be a happy group of Boy Scouts of the city go to Pittsburgh to see the "big league" play free of charge. Scout officials here have announced that Barney Dreyfuss has invited them to attend a double header that day as his guests. The Cincinnati Reds oppose the Pirates that day.

Camping season for most of the New Castle cottagers is fast nearing the end. Pa News knows of some who have deserted their summer places along the different streams. However, the majority will remain at their cottages for some time yet.

The Youngstown road is now looking much the same as the Ellwood road. The court would grant Schnader's plea. The court is expected, though, by most observers, to render a decision favorable to Pinchot inasmuch as it is contended the ballots used in two other counties of the state also contained marks in the margins.

A lady told Pa News, the other day, that she lives in Edinboro, Pa., and is able to see the rays of the gigantic searchlight of Detroit which lights that city for several hours every night. She says that Edinboro is nearly 100 miles from Detroit. If it is the huge Detroit light that this lady sees it is indeed a remarkable fact.

From the New Wilmington road, the revolving beacon at Youngstown can be seen very plainly.

In a few weeks the village of New Wilmington will resound with school and fraternity songs. There will be a new allotment of freshmen to delight the wise old seniors.

Pa News observed a weird looking advertising bus passing through the city late Monday afternoon. It had a series of loud speaking horns arranged on the top and a tourist balcony on the rear. The machine bore a California license.

One sees tourist autos from widely scattered sections of the country passing through the city these days. Pa News observed cars from California, Missouri and Tennessee in one short line of traffic yesterday.

It beats all the things that people throw into the Neshannock creek, according to a survey of the pile city employees have made of the debris between the Mill and Washington street bridges. There are even auto fenders to outfit several cars, besides other heavy and cumbersome objects. The bed of the creek is being cleaned out while the water is low.

Building work is at a standstill in the Shenango and Beaver valleys today, the occasion being the annual picnic of the Shenango and Beaver valley council. Carpenters have laid away their saws and hammers and are having a good time at Cascade Park.

If autograph hunters are concerned, the A. B. C. Albers Be Carefully safety campaign of the New Castle Motor club should go over big, since announcement has been made that the signature of Mayor William H. Gillespie is to appear on letters to traffic violators.

vested for hay, there will be no important shortage of feeds for livestock. The small grains and the grasses are interchangeable for feeding to a considerable extent. And in most sections, though not all, these crops made satisfactory harvests.

Altogether, taking farm production as a whole, there is no reason for alarm. There will be plenty of food for every family, and feed for every head of livestock.

In some cases a farmer will consider it better to sell his stock than to buy feed, and this will have an effect on livestock next year. This is particularly true where pastures have been badly burned.

Again, the results of the drought will be favorable to some farmers and ruinous to others. That always is the case. Those with feeds to sell will profit; those who must buy will suffer.

But the impression that agriculture in all its divisions and throughout the country is in a desperate situation because of dry weather, is ridiculously untrue. The first soaking rains—which are sure to come—will put a different face on the matter.

writing to the slain gang leader in requesting the loan of $400.

Investigators also made public the discovery of an uncanceled check for $50 which was made payable to currency and signed by John Craig, city editor of the Chicago Daily News.

When questioned, Craig admitted that he had written the check and that Zuta had cashed it. Zuta held the check and it was found among the gangster's financial records.

Letter

Freeman's letter read: "Dear Jack: "I am temporarily in need of four C's for a couple of months. Can you let me have it? The bearer does not know what it is, so put it in an envelope and seal it and address it to me."

"Your old pal," "Bill Freeman."

"P. S.—Will let you know the night of the party, so be sure and come."

Many Involved
Freeman's letter was one of the several hundred receipts, records and documents unearthed by investigators when they raided the slain gangster's secret vaults following his murder at a summer resort near Quaketa, Wis. The meticulous records of Zuta have involved the names of scores of politicians, police and office holders who had financial dealings with the gang leader.

Chief of Police Freeman denied ever granting Zuta any favors. And said he meant to repay the vice lord. He also denied that the slain gangster had ever asked for any. Freeman's record has been excellent, his superiors declared.

$700,000 Received
New records unearthed yesterday in Zuta's vaults showed that $700,000 was poured into the coffers of Zuta's vice, gambling and racketeering organization in one "period" alone. Zuta's fiscal periods are believed to have been one week long. Disposition shows that vast sums of money were paid out regularly for "protection."

"Iron Man" John Alcock, acting police commissioner, issued an order last night transferring the entire office personnel of the Chicago avenue station after Zuta's records indicated that $3,500 in graft payments had been made weekly to police in that district.

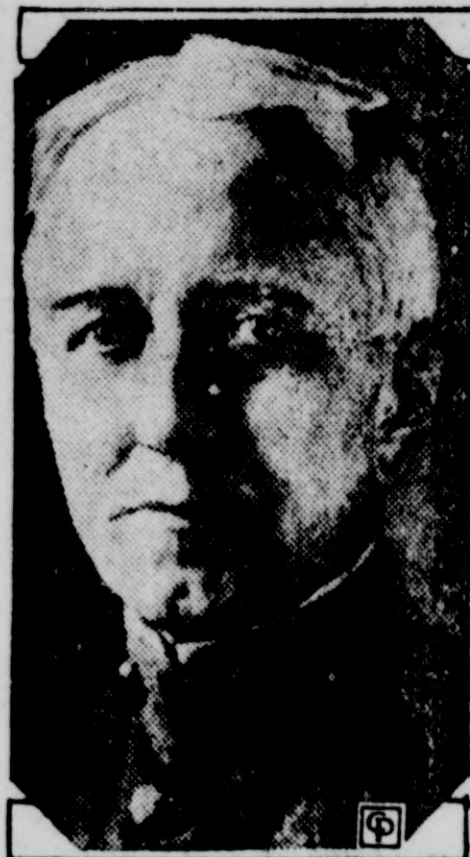

Politicians were reported to be leaving town and officialdom in general was in a furry today at Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the district attorney continued to run down the evidence contained in the mass of records and cancelled checks carefully preserved by Zuta.

A GROUP OF BOY SCOUTS, eager to know about the starry universe, brought in contact with a man who is equally enthusiastic for opportunity to impart a knowledge of astronomy, make a combination comparable to "the powder and the match." The writer recently met such a group while on vacation, in Little Valley, among the green Cattaraugus county hills, in New York. Think of boys in high school keen and alert, but totally ignorant of the Zodiac! We are reminded of Carlisle: "Why did not someone teach me the constellations, and make me at home in the starry heavens, which are always overhead, and which I don't half know to this day?"

Z. to San Francisco the Tahiti lost a propeller, which resulted in the sinking of the ship.

Despite gallant efforts of the crew the leak continued to gain headway partly flooding number three and four holds and the engine room.

Await Ventura.
When the plight of the Tahiti became serious the Union line requested the Ventura, which was 750 miles away, to go to the aid of the foundering ship. The Ventura was enroute from Suva to Pago Pago.

Meanwhile, the Norwegian steamer Penbyrny, which was closer to the Tahiti, steamed to the aid of the sinking ship and was first of arrive on the scene. She stood by during the night ready to take off passengers and crew in the event of an emergency. With the crew of the Tahiti holding the leak partly in check it was decided that waiting for the Ventura would be advisable.

Under forced draught, the Ventura cleaved through the dangerous waters of the South seas and reached the Tahiti on Sunday.

Twice before the Ventura arrived it appeared as if the Tahiti would have to be abandoned, but each time the crew fought back the intruding waters and the orders were rescinded.

Saturday night the situation aboard the Tahiti became extremely perilous. The water had put her engines out of commission and it was threatening to engulf the dynamo. A message from the Ventura telling of her fast progress prevented abandonment at that time.

Sunday forenoon the Ventura pulled alongside and transfer of passengers, crew, mail and small baggage began immediately. Most of the letter mail was saved but the parcel mail had to be left aboard. By 1:50 p. m. all were safely aboard the rescue ship. Three hours later the Tahiti lurched over and disappeared.

Sixteen passengers and the crew of 149 on the Tahiti will remain at Pago Pago to await transportation back to New Zealand. The other passengers will continue on the Ventura.

north side of Edinburg, they found that the hill had been recently oiled, and was so slippery that the car began to skid. Mrs. Petrick proceeded as slowly as possible, but when she was partly down the hill, the car skidded into the ditch, and was turned partly over, although the occupants were thrown out.

Edward was injured by striking his head on the side of the car, causing a fracture of the skull. Mrs. Petrick and her daughter were also injured by being thrown against the side of the car. Following the accident they were rushed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where Edward died early this morning. Mrs. Petrick and Hazel will recover.

Mrs. Petrick had been accompanied to Franklin by Mr. and Mrs. Henderson of Hillsville. Mrs. Henderson being a brother of William Ford, whose funeral they were attending. The Henderson car was some distance ahead of the Petrick car when the Edinburg hill was reached. Mrs. Henderson told Corner J. P. Caldwell who investigated the Petrick accident, that their car had turned completely around on the oiled hill, but that they had escaped injury. Mrs. Henderson was worrying lest something happened to the Petrick car, when she received word of the accident.

May Hold Owners On Arson Charge

Believe Proprietors Attempt To Burn Building; Porter Discovers Burning Candle

FIND COMBUSTIBLE MATERIALS IN STORE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—Max Friedman, one of the proprietors of the Friedman Brothers' jewelry store at 512 Penn. avenue, was to be arraigned on a charge of attempted arson today following the discovery last night of a burning candle surrounded by gasoline soaked paper in his store.

Discovery of the burning candle was made by a negro porter in a barber shop below the store when he detected a strong odor of gasoline. Police stated that investigation showed the candle atop a huge pile of gasoline soaked paper, rubbish and excelsior in a rear room.

Two and one-half gallons of gasoline in seven cardboard containers surrounded the paper box on which the candle was found, police claimed. Shelves in the rear room were filled with inflammable materials, they claimed.

Fire Chief Richard Smith said that the fire might have proved disastrous with probable loss of life because of a theater next door.

Five years ago a fire of unknown origin damaged the building to the extent of $100,000, according to Abe Jubililer, owner. The Friedman brothers sustained approximately $40,000 loss in that fire, it was said.

Bailey Asks City Council For Sewer

Sewer Not Installed At Affected
Point When Avenue
Was Paved

Richard Bailey appeared before council yesterday and stated he had purchased 40 lots in Butler Avenue near Maryland.

He told council he desires to improve the sections but is held up owing to the lack of a sewer in the avenue at that point.

Bailey said the avenue was paved but the sewer not installed.

Council informed Mr. Bailey that the sewer was not extended to the point where he is affected because when the avenue was paved there was no outlet.

He asked council to draft legislation which will provide for a sewer. The council took no other action than to ask the city engineer to make a recommendation Friday.

In the meanwhile, according to Bailey the improvement is delayed.

The Parent Problem

GARRY C. MYERS, M.D.

Apply Pain To Keep Tot From Street

By GARRY C. MYERS, M.D.

If you want to train the little child not to run into the street you will not let him go there the first time. Never let him get pleasure from this dangerous act. If you wish to do less constant watching and indeed to make the infant's life more safe you will be on hand the first time he has an opportunity to step off the curb. You will let him choose and then give him immediate physical pain, probably upon his bare fat thighs. But if he has enjoyed the pleasure from running into the street several times before he experienced pain it will take a large amount of discomfort to overbalance the pleasure which the freedom of the street promises.

If you are going to apply bodily pain to all to young children be sure to do it immediately following the street "offense." Don't worry about motive. It is a matter wholly practical. You want to guarantee his safety at the least possible pain to him. If you wait until he is ready to respond to reason he may not be. He may be dead, slaughtered by a motor car. Or his habits of running into the street may be so strong that reason will have no inhibitory effect on him.

Train the infant to avoid a few specific dangerous things long before he is likely to respond to reason. Save him first and reason with him afterwards else you may not have a child to reason with. Anyway, the most reasonable child is he who very early had acquired some automatic inhibitions. No bigger barriers to the older child than bad habits—void of restraint—which had been acquired at a very early age.

When you punish children two or three years of age for the specific things which have been carefully thought through and agreed upon by both parents, be sure it is done for the first performance and for every subsequent repetition. But as the child grows older new cases arise where his freedom must be interfered with. Always ask yourself this question, "Is it a situation which is likely to arise again? If not, mere distraction or gentle interference will suffice. Then, as the child grows older there constantly will come instances in which it may not be wholly clear to the child what he wants to do is to be forbidden—and nearly all his irregular behavior will fall into this class—don't punish on the first offense."

Quietly define the matter to the child, making it as clear and reasonable as possible, and then tell him exactly what the penalty will be if it is repeated. Then don't lie. Wherever as practically all necessary punishment is very rarely necessary of children under three or four should follow the first "offense" punishment of older children almost never should. The older child will be deterred by unambiguous, intelligent threat: the younger will not as you can clearly see. The older child grows the more he can be deterred from doing wrong by knowing clearly beforehand the consequence of his performance. A problem is to make those consequences absolutely certain.

Remember that punishment at best merely prevents. We don't motivate the child to do the right thing by making proper conduct painful. With this principle in mind the wise parent can reduce punishment about 95 per cent and by and by abandon it entirely; perhaps even dirty looks and ugly words and sounds.

THE ONLY REASON—

For religion is to help us understand life.
For education is to make our work more effective.
For any machine is to make life easier for all.
For culture is to make life kinder and more beautiful.
For leisure is that we may have time for growth.
For law is that we may gain large liberties by surrendering small ones.
For government is to gain the most rights for the most people.

And yet a man can be as decent as he knows how without coming in conflict with a single law.

Peter's Adventures

BY FLORENCE VINCENT

SUN-UP IN ANTHILL TOWN

WORKER ANT stood stock still in the sunlit path and scratched her head.
"Dear me, how fast the moments chase each other," said she. "It seem no time at all since I met you, and yet the sun is casting a shadow across the plantain leaf. If mother hadn't brought me up not to brag, there have been times when I might have boasted about the amount of work I did in sun-up hour. But I haven't accomplished a blessed thing this morning, so far. However, it isn't every day that an Ant gets a chance to play host to a Human, so I'm going to make the best of it and not worry. I've always believed that all work and no play made us Ants dull folks, but you're the first person I've ever said this to. I wouldn't dare suggest such a thing to an Ant—I might have my head snapped off for my pains. Duty before pleasure—that's been the slogan in Ant-hill Town ever since its cornerstones were laid. You ought to see what a bustling place home is at sun-up! Speaking of Ant-hill Town, it lies right over yonder, behind that curve in the road."
Worker Ant scuttled ahead of Peter, but only for a few paces. A blackberry bramble had crept across the path.
"Watch your step, boy, or you'll trip and scratch your shins. Stay where you are, a moment, and I'll clear the thorns from your way."
Worker Ant used her mandibles as a saw and cut the bramble in two. Taking one end in her mouth she trotted with it to the side of the path and was coming back for the other when Peter gave a loud cry.
"Friend Ant, take your eyes off the ground? Who comes here? There are a crowd of insects bearing down upon us? We had better run while there is time. We could never fight them. There are too many for us."

PETER GAVE A LOUD CRY

Next: "Moving Day."

Vets Look Forward To Big Convention

Bell and Leslie To Attend National Encampment of V.
F. W. At Baltimore

Commander James A. Bell and Clarence A. Leslie, who will represent the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars at the National Encampment, which will open in Baltimore, August 31, lastly through September 5, are eagerly looking forward to the big meeting.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland will have a prominent place on the program of the convention and will also occupy a place of honor, along with President Hoover and other distinguished guests at the annual military parade on September 2.

Official delegates will include 2,000 from V. F. W. posts throughout the country, 1,000 from Auxiliaries, and 500 from the Military Order of the Cooties, but thousands of other V. F. W. members are expected present, including several hundred bugle and drum corps.

Features of the convention activities will include a boat ride to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, the military parade, an inter-service athletic tournament, military ball, and side trips to Fort McHenry, birthplace of the Star Spangled Banner and other points of historic interest in the vicinity of Baltimore.

E. And A. Making New Safety Record

Not a single loss-time accident case has been entered on the safety journal of the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad so far this month, a record everlastingly coveted but seldom attained before, Safety Agent L. C. Gleason announced today.

Mr. Gleason declared the train service department of the company in the New Castle district has gone 10 months minus a loss-time case.

For reportable cases, commonly known as I. C. C. cases, where the injury disables an employee for more than three days, the division ranks second among other divisions of Class B for the entire system.

Don't Allow The Ragweed To Blossom

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

The fall type of hay fever is caused very largely by the pollen of members of the ragweed family.

Most people who have it think it is due to golden rod. But this is an erroneous notion. They have, however, a basis for their belief.

The plants whose pollens cause hay fever, either in the spring or fall, usually have very inconspicuous or no flowers. Their pollen is wind borne. They shed a great deal of pollen, which is blown away in the wind and settles on the other plants. It fertilizes only those plants of its own species, of course, but it lights on all plants.

Thus, because the golden rod has a bushy, fluffy flower and blooms at the time of the ragweed pollination, it catches a great many of the ragweed pollen grains. Therefore, as a hay fever victim gets near some golden rod, smells it, or passes a cluster while riding past, some of the ragweed pollen blows off it and affects the nose and eyes, etc., of the victim.

The ragweed deserves its name. It has ragged leaves, and once seen can never be forgotten. The "flowers" are small, hard, greenish globules, the pollen, when ripe, is yellow.

It grows very abundantly in vacant lots, beside roadways, and along railroad tracks.

Other members of the family which cause hay fever in the autumn are sage and cocklebur and pigweed.

It has always been a source of wonder to me that the hay fever victims do not form an association in every city in the United States. They could raise an annual fund which would allow them to employ a gang of men to go all over the outlying district and cut the ragweed down. This could be done in July and early August. Once well cut, the plant could not flower, and hence would not pollinate. If the cutting was done over a wide enough district, it would certainly reduce the amount of hay fever a great deal. By widespread co-operation between neighboring cities it might almost eliminate it.

The cost of such an undertaking would be infinitesimal to each member of the group. About one-fifth of his annual doctor bill for hay fever. The annual economic loss from hay fever is incalculable. There are estimated to be about 10,000,000 people in the United States affected by it. Every one of these people is partially incapacitated for from six weeks to two months every year. Some of them are wholly incapacitated. Contrasted with this, the amount of money to be expended on a ragweed destruction campaign infinitesimal.

Furthermore, the ragweed is thoroughly useless. It is not even decorative. Its destruction would be a cause of infinite rejoicing. It really is a duty of government to make an effort at its extinction, provided private associations cannot be formed.

EDITORS NOTE: Dr. Clendening cannot diagnose or give personal answers to letters from readers. Where questions are of general interest, however, they will be taken in order in the daily column. Address your queries to Dr. Logan Clendening, care of this paper. Write legibly and not over 200 words.

P. & L. E. Officials Coming Wednesday

Will Go To Camp Yohe-Campbell For Program At Night

Officials of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad are expected to come from Pittsburgh on Wednesday for a special afternoon and evening program at Camp Yohe-Campbell, camping program operated camp along the Slippery Rock creek, it is announced.

According to Freight Agent W. A. Stone, who made known the plans, the affair is a yearly one. A program of muskball games, swimming and other sports are planned.

The railroad men will journey here aboard regular trains and go to the camp in automobiles furnished by local P. & L. E. men.

And a worthy cause also is judged by the crooks it keeps.

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

What is the firing order of a model T Ford?

The firing order of a model T Ford is 1-2-4-3.

Please inform me whether I can get a book on canning from the government.

The department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., publishes a number of pamphlets on canning.

What is a horse doing when hitched to a load? Is he pushing or pulling?

In the usual types of harness, the horse is pushing but the load is being pulled. Ordinarily, it is considered that an object cannot be pushed unless the impelling force is behind the object.

Where did Arlington cemetery get its name?

Arlington was originally the ancestral estate of the Curtis family and later of General Robert E. Lee, who married an heir of Colonel John Parke Custis. The estate was named after the city of Arlington, Va.

What is supposed to be the chief ingredient of the earth's interior?

Up-to-date geophysicists believe that the earth has a core of nickel-iron of about one-half the globe's total diameter, undoubtedly in a molten liquid state, but a rigidity greater than steel due to tremendous pressure.

Was the present passport system a war creation or did it exist before the war?

Up to the outbreak of the war, the only two countries which required passports were Russia and Turkey.

Where should I try to sell a short story?

Before attempting to sell a short story you should obtain a current market list through any of the magazines published for the guidance of authors. This list will enable you to determine those magazines which are in the market for the type of story you desire to sell.

Is President Irigoyen of the Argentine Republic serving his second term?

He is serving his second term, but the term between his first and second was served by President Alvear, inasmuch as the Argentine constitution does not permit a president to succeed himself.

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—One of the funny things about the graft expose in the Magistrates' Courts in Tammany Hall is the astonishment on the part of The Lads Higher Up.

If their expressions of horror and pain are any criterion, they were the only ones in New York, who hadn't the faintest inkling of what was going on.

Life is full of upper cuts and grief.

WHAT? NO BACKBONE!

A New York bank that has spent a young fortune advertising Optimism since last October, broke out into a rash of printer's ink recently, decrying pessimism at this time and insisting that the United States is long on wealth and short on courage.

With 7 per cent of the world's population, they said, we consume 48 per cent of the world's coffee, 53 per cent of its tin, 56 per cent of its rubber, 21 per cent of its sugar, 73 per cent of its silk, 36 per cent of its coal.

And after a lot more of that stuff they went on to say:

"On the other hand we would seem, by the pessimistic sentiment prevailing, to have about 1 per cent of the courage, three-quarters of 1 per cent nerve, one-half of 1 per cent of force and power and one-quarter of 1 per cent of backbone of almost any one country."

OUR NON-MILLIONAIRES.

Of course it's all right to brag about the fact that we hold one-half of the world's monetary gold and two-thirds of the total banking resources of the earth. But how about the other side of the embroidery—the seamy side?

Are all the inhabitants of this marvelous land provided with all the necessities and comforts needed for rational living?

They are not.

The average annual income of unskilled laborers in 1929 was just about $1,000 a year. And it takes from $1,600 to $1,800 a year to enable a family of five, including three small children, to live at a minimum of health and decency in any of our large cities.

With our vast army of underpaid workers and idle men, with all our idle machines, what good is it going to do to stress the fact that the country is fundamentally sound?

What's that got to do with it?

The men who are harping on that note and who whine when you refuse to join the chorus are, for the most part, the men responsible for our present plight.

We are not troubled by unsound fundamental conditions. It's failure in Leadership that's causing all the difficulty.

When we're up against a temporary breakdown in the complicated economic machinery, it's competent engineers and mechanics—not oilers—who are wanted.

THE RADIO FAIRFAX

Peggy Winthrop, Beatrice Fairfax of the radio, who professes advice to thousands of men and women suffering from cardiac fracture, says that the greatest plant is: "How shall I keep my husband's love?"

In a problem of that kind the first two considerations should be: (1) Have I ever had it? and (2) Is it worth keeping?

With these two questions honestly disposed of there wouldn't be any problem left. And if there were no problem left, Peggy would be out of a job. So for Peggy's sake, let us continue the bughouse discussion.

TATTOOING FAD.

Longacre Lil has a mole on her neck, nor'west by nor' of her right clavicle. Her Complexion Coaxer has suggested that she call in a competent tattooer and have the mole surrounded by a "select floral design." According to the beautician, tattooing has become the rage in Bond Street. Bees, bluebells, butterflies, caterpillars and even tattooed floral garters are in demand there.

At the same time, society hostess in Thames Town has even gone so far as to have a bumble bee tattooed over an operation scar.

Lil says if she goes in for it at all, she'll camouflage the mole either with a poison ivy leaf or a ring of raspberries.

More Senate Candidates Are Being Selected

Two State Primary Elections Are In Progress Today

TEN OTHER STATES NOMINATE SOON

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—While the Democrats claim an "even chance" to win the senate this year, party leaders today looked forward to the remaining 12 senatorial primaries in which opposing warriors will be chosen for the November elections.

Out of a total of 35 seats to be filled next fall, the two major parties have selected their senatorial nominees for 23 of the contests. Four more will be decided this month, two of them today, five more in September while the primary day has not yet been fixed in Delaware, New Mexico and Rhode Island.

Some of the senate's outstanding figures and flaming personalities are entered in the remaining contests. Today, Senator Pat Harrison will be renominated by the Democrats of Mississippi. He has no opposition and the nomination is tantamount to election in his state. At the same time, the voters of Wyoming will be choosing Republican and Democratic nominees to fill the seat now held by the picturesque Senator Patrick J. Sullivan, who is retiring.

A week from today, Senator William E. Borah will be renominated by the Republicans of Idaho while the Democrats choose a candidate to make a futile race against him in November. Even Senator Tydings, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, has said the chances of the Democrat winning were "not promising."

On the same day, the Democrats of South Carolina will decide whether to keep Senator Cole L. Blease in the senate for another term. Blease has strong opposition in James P. Byrnes, a Spartanburg attorney, but the senator's friends predict he will win.

In September, senatorial nominees will be chosen in Colorado, Georgia, Massachusetts, Michigan and New Hampshire. There will be interesting contests in all but New Hampshire, where Senator Henry W. Keyes (R) is assured of renomination for a third term.

The first of the September contests will come in Michigan on the second when Senator James Couzens, colorful independent Republican, seeks renomination. He is opposed by former Governor Chase Osborn and the winner will be virtually assured of election.

On September 9, the Colorado primaries will be held. The retirement of Senator Lawrence C. Phipps after 12 years' service has resulted in a "dog-fight" for the Republican nomination. The Democrats are having a contest too.

In Georgia, Senator William J. Harris, veteran of two terms, is having real opposition in the Democratic primary on September 10. His opponent is former Governor John M. Slaton of Atlanta.

On September 16, Massachusetts will choose her senatorial nominees. The retirement of Senator Frederick H. Gillett, veteran Republican leader, has brought William M. Butler out of retirement. Butler seeks the Republican nomination against bitter opposition while the Democrats are having a fight of their own. The November battle will be even more interesting than the primary, particularly if Butler wins the Republican nomination.

If he does, he will expect aid from former President Calvin Coolidge and may get it.

In Delaware, where Senator Daniel O. Hastings (R) seeks another term, in New Mexico where Senator Sam G. Bratton (D) is almost assured of re-election and in Rhode Island where eventually Senator James H. Metcalf (R) will oppose former Senator Peter G. Gerry (D) the dates have not yet been fixed for primaries.

These contests will complete the primary slate with a dozen "cat and dog" fights scheduled for November.

GRANT CITY

ANNUAL HOME COMING DAY

The annual home coming day for all former Grant City folks will be held at Muddy Creek Falls on Saturday, August 23. All those interested will look forward with pleasure to this event. Those who attended the first picnic which was held last August at Muddy Creek Falls will remember the enjoyable day spent renewing old friends and acquaintances. Please remember to bring silver ware, and cups.

S. S. PICNIC

The Sunday School picnic held at Zion Church on Saturday was very largely attended. A basket picnic dinner was served at noon and the afternoon was spent in various games and contest and prizes were awarded to the winners of the contest.

W. M. S. MEETING

The W. M. S. held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Joy Brooks and was very well attended. The meeting took place last Wednesday. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. H. J. Dean in September.

GRANT CITY NOTES

Dean and Mrs. Jesse Cooper and Mrs. McNeese of New Castle attended the S. S. picnic at Zion Church on Saturday.

Mrs. Gale Dean and daughter, Bernice, and son Freddie, spent Wednesday in New Castle and also visited Mrs. John Neely who has been a patient in the New Castle hospital.

Mrs. Naomi Book and children, Randall, James, and Ruth and Belle Grant attended the Harlan reunion held at the home of William Harlan of Princeton on Thursday.

Bull's Board Bill Has Everyone Guessing Now

Whether or not $10 is an exorbitant board bill for a full grown bull for three months is the question that is troubling a bull raiser and a farmer, the latter having at first appeared reluctant to board the bull. Since the animal came as an unwelcome guest the farmer made him a prisoner for three months. Now the board bill, it happened this way. Nearly three months ago a bull from the Pulaski road farm of John Gorman, who also has a farm in Edenburg, decided to see the world. He broke loose and paid a visit to the rich oat and wheat fields of Farmer Trindle a half mile north west on the New Bedford-Pulaski road.

To say that Trindle was delighted with his visitor would be a grave injustice to the farmer, who detested the bull for the manner in which he ruined the oats and wheat. Nevertheless, Trindle locked the huge animal in the barn and awaited the owner. Since Gorman has many animals on his farm he did not miss the bull. Recently he heard that his bull was kept in the Trindle barn. He investigated. Then County Detective H. M. Lee was called to settle an argument. Farmer Trindle wanted $20 for keeping the bull. Nothing doing, Gorman told him. Trindle lowered the board bill to $10 and still the bull owner disagreed. The detective could do nothing. Gorman is said to have declared he would take the matter to court.

Wyoming Voters Will Cast Ballots Today

Political And Public Interest Centered About Contest For Senate

(International News Service) CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 19.—Wyoming voters will cast their ballots in the primary election today following one of the most heated campaigns in the political history of the state on the part of republican candidates.

Both political and public interest is centered about the contest for the nomination for the senate. There are four aspirants seeking the nomination for the long and short terms. The short term is the unexpected portion of the term of the late senator Francis E. Warren.

Those seeking nomination are Robert D. Carey, former governor; Charles E. Winter, former congressman; William C. Deming, Cheyenne publisher and former president of the U. S. Civil Service commission, and W. L. Walls, former attorney and an outspoken "wet."

The democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate is Harry H. Schwartz of Casper, former chairman of the democratic state central committee.

Governor Frank C. Emerson is opposed by W. H. Edelman of Sheridan, state treasurer, in the race for the gubernatorial nomination. Leslie Miller is the democratic gubernatorial candidate.

Rumor Evangelist In Critical Condition

Condition Of Aimee Semple McPherson, Famous Evangelist, Puzzles Reporters

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 19.—Whether Aimee Semple McPherson is having her face lifted or is actually suffering from a nervous breakdown and near death, as the board of directors of her church here declare, today puzzled reporters who succeeded in locating the famous evangelist at a Malibu Beach house but were denied admittance.

Mysterious silence as to the leader's whereabouts greeted inquirers at Angeles Temple, where the director of the church issued the declaration which stated physicians held Mrs. McPherson's recovery doubtful. The mystery heightened, however, when it was learned Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy, the pastor's mother, was in a Brentwood sanitarium, her face covered with bandages, recovering from a plastic operation on her nose.

Reporters, accompanied by physicians, hastened to Malibu Beach and there through a window, they said, they saw attendants changing bandages on Mrs. McPherson's face.

Girl Scout Camp Comes To Close

Girls Return To Their Homes Here This Morning After Two Weeks Vacation

Girl Scout camp at Fred L. Rantz of the Y. M. C. A. on the Slippery Rock came to an official close this morning after breakfast. All those participating were in excellent health and had a pleasant time bidding good bye to the scene of their activities during the past two weeks and their companions of the two weeks. A few returned home last night but the majority returned this morning.

The final entertainment of the camp occurred last night when a Marionette Show, "Tom Sawyer" was presented by a student of the University of Wisconsin. It proved most enjoyable to the campers and a large number of visitors.

Real Estate Men Lose Licenses On "Free Lot Racket"

Three Philadelphia real estate men have just had their licenses revoked by the state department for operating a "free lot racket," a method of disposing of real estate which has been operated in New Castle and vicinity several times in recent years by traveling real estate men. Testimony at the hearing showed that the prospect who won a lot on free tickets which had been distributed, was asked to pay as much for conveying of the lot as it was worth. The method is condemned as grossly misleading in an opinion handed down by Dr. John A. H. Keith, Superintendent of the state department.

Chief Lynn Warns Against Bon Fires

Says Small Rubbish Fires May Be Cause Of Real Conflagration During Dry Spell

Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn issued a warning against promiscuous burning of rubbish during the present dry spell.

Monday afternoon, firemen assisted in fighting a big fire in New Shannock township which has started from a small bonfire.

Chief Lynn is very much in favor of restricting burning permits altogether during the current dry spell, or at least rigidly enforcing it. He stated that when a fire gets started during the present dry weather, especially on a windy day, like yesterday, there is no telling where it will stop.

BANQUET GRAND LODGE OFFICERS

Grand Lodge Body, who have passed to the great beyond during the past year.

One of the interesting facts developed during the evening was that the present grand lodge convention is being held without a single contribution being asked of a merchant or individual and by means of the funds raised by the organization itself.

C. W. Herman Hess, Grand Chancellor of Pennsylvania, presided and the manner in which he handled the program of the evening, indicated in no small degree the real reason for the success of his term of office.

Introduces Every Person

During the course of the evening, he introduced each person at the banquet table to the entire group without mistake or assistance and in every instance recalled some personal reference to the individual introduced without the aid of an individual present or reference to notes. This was generally considered by those present as one of the most remarkable evidences of memory that they had ever witnessed, as there were fifty individuals from all parts of the state to be introduced.

The elaborate course dinner was opened with prayer by Supreme Representative James A. Steese of Mt. Holly Springs. While the banquet was in progress the Ellwood Mandoliers directed by A. W. Stange, all members of Alma Lodge, Ellwood City, rendered splendid music.

Following the dinner Grand Chancellor C. W. Herman Hess made appropriate remarks in which he expressed his appreciation of the assistance rendered by those present and the Knights of Pythias of the state in general.

Mayor Speaks

Mayor William H. Gillespie was then introduced and in well chosen words expressed his appreciation of being present and extended to the assembled Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters, the freedom of the city.

It was then that the grand chancellor introduced each guest in turn, concluding with Grand Vice-Chancellor John C. Wilkes of Sharon, who spoke of the wonderful work done during the past year by Grand Chancellor Hess and expressed the hope that he might be able to keep up to the high ideals that had marked the work of the retiring grand chancellor.

The Hon. Fred L. Rantz was the next speaker and his remarks were commendatory to the Grand Chancellor and the order. He extended his welcome and assured those present that they would have a good time while in this city.

Grand Chancellor Hess then told of those invited, who could not be present and extended to those present the greetings sent him by these persons, who were Past Grand Chancellor George M. Fletcher of Erie, Past Grand Chancellor Willis H. Faber of Williamsport, Past Grand Chancellor Thomas W. Conway of Pittsburgh, Past Grand Chancellor Calvin Tomlinson of New York, Pa., Past Grand Chancellor H. M. Jones of Plymouth, Past Grand Chancellor George Mentzell, and Past Grand Chancellor David P. Reese of Harrisburg.

Several Speakers

Other speakers in their order were Supreme Representative Norval R. Daugherty of Pittsburgh, Supreme Representative James A. Steese of Mt. Holly Springs, Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, C. W. T. Robinson of Philadelphia, Grand Master of Exchequer Henry W. Fox of Johnstown, John Fielding of Pittsburgh, the oldest living member of the order in the state, Past Grand Chancellor Harry A. Boyer of Harrisburg, Supreme Representative E. H. Hutchinson of Harmony, Supreme Representative Benjamin Moore of Bellevue, and others.

Many of the speakers including the grand chancellor paid glowing tribute to the memory of Lemuel Wilt, grand keeper of records and seal, who died during the past year. Supreme Representative Benjamin Moore gave a most impressive eulogy and at the close proposed a silent toast to the memory of this distinguished deceased member of the grand lodge.

The affair was brought to a close at the suggestion of the grand chancellor with a moments silent prayer by the entire group, who stood with bowed heads.

Those Present

Guests at the Grand Chancellor's dinner to the grand lodge officers were as follows: Grand Vice-Chancellor John C. Wilkes of Sharon, Grand Prelate A. B. Hess of York, Grand Keeper of Records and Seal C. W. T. Robinson of Philadelphia, Grand Master of Exchequer Henry W. Fox of Johnstown, Grand Master at Arms L. M. Ekin of Vandergrift, Grand Insignia Guard O. G. Brennan of Harrisburg, Grand Outer Guard O. S. Nagle of Koppel, Grand Trustee J. M. Snyder of Wilkinsburg, Grand Trustee W. L. Gussman of Carlisle, Grand Trustee, A. T. French of Philadelphia.

Supreme Representative James A. Steese of Mt. Holly Springs, Supreme Representative Norval R. Daugherty of Pittsburgh, Supreme Representative E. H. Hutchinson of Harmony, Supreme Representative Benjamin Moore of Bellevue, Grand Tribune W. J. Moffatt, New Castle, Grand Tribune LeRoy G. Martin of Carlisle.

Past Grand Chancellor J. W. Hutchinson of Butler, Past Grand Chancellor Harry A. Boyer of Harrisburg, Past Grand Chancellor L. G. Corpening of Uniontown, Past Grand Chancellor B. H. Goodwin of Pittsburgh.

Edward O'Neill of Philadelphia, chairman of the grand lodge finance committee, L. K. Levy, Philadelphia, chairman of the grand lodge judiciary committee.

W. J. McKim of Ellwood City, chairman of the convention committee, Don Dinsmore, New Castle, secretary of the convention committee, W. J. Holtzman of Beaver Falls, treasurer of the convention committee, John Fielding of Pittsburgh, W. C. Hess, New Castle, Joseph Braude, Harmony, O. W. Zeigler, Zelienople, Jacob Cosel, New Castle, I. Rose, New Castle, J. L. Maxwell, New Castle, G. D. Hildebrand, C. E. Lamson, the Hon. Fred L. Rantz, Mayor William H. Gillespie, H. K. Bell.

LEAD TO SAME PLACE.

Dempsey Offers To Give Blood To Veteran Pug

Dempsey Willing To Give Blood To Jack Hanlon Who Is In Critical Condition

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—Jack Dempsey and many others of lesser note came forward today with offers of blood to Jack Hanlon, veteran welterweight of a score of years ago, who lies at death's door in Mount Sinai hospital here following a major operation.

A call for blood transfusion went out yesterday and Dempsey, who is now in San Francisco, wired his regards to Hanlon and offered to come here for a blood transfusion if necessary.

Battling Levinsky, one-time king of the light heavies, also came forward as a blood donor.

Hanlon fought for several years meeting such men as Joe Gans and other first-string boxers of Gans' time, and late achieved some fame as a fistie promoter here.

Reunion Runner Here Wednesday From Leedsdale

Fleet-footed A. F. Bergman will run all the way from Leedsdale to New Castle, a distance of 37 miles in order to attend the Dombart family reunion in Cascade Park Wednesday.

He declared in a letter received by General Secretary Meermans of the Y. M. C. A. that he will arrive here about 10:30 a. m.

A long distance marathon runner, Bergman, who lives in Leedsdale, has previously written Meermans that he would run from Leedsdale to the park to attend the reunion.

Bergman claims he holds the walking record between Pittsburgh and Chicago, having covered that distance he says, in six days, 23 hours and 45 minutes. In his latest communication to the "Y" secretary, the runner says he has participated in all the races ever run between New Castle and Pittsburgh, sponsored several years ago by a newspaper. He adds that he covered 74 miles in 12 hours in Philadelphia.

Auto Accidents Are Reported To Police

Damage Is Done To A Number Of Automobiles In The Accidents Reported

Neal Williams, Jr., of 627 Raymond street, reported to the police Monday that he was driving west on Long avenue at School street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license N6025 going west in the middle of the street turned to go north on School street and their machines came together. Some damage was done.

R. M. Gillman, of 1104 Agnew St., reported to the police that he had stopped for the red light at Jefferson and North streets, when a woman driving a car bearing Pennsylvania license AB926 ran into and damaged the rear of his machine.

E. Anderson, of 514 Winter avenue, reported that he was driving north on South Jefferson street at South street, when a car driven by C. A. Bowers and bearing Ohio license 790-099 going south on Jefferson street and turning east on South street collided with his machine. Both machines were damaged and Mr. Bowers was injured on the leg.

Margaret Waldo, of 422 Park avenue, reported that she was enroute west on Long avenue at Mill street, when a truck bearing Pennsylvania license 480HF going west, backed into and damaged her machine.

The last day for placing cases on the trial list for the October and November terms of civil court will be Tuesday, September 2.

New Anti-Pain Oil Works Wonders

Takes The Crick Out Of Your Neck, The Sharp Shooting Pains Out Of The Shoulders—In A Few Minutes

This new discovery is a combination of eucalyptus together with essential oils, turpentine-Camphor, Capsicum and other valuable ingredients that is now being offered the public under the name "Anti-Pain Oil," formerly known as Snake Oil. It has proved to be an effective, agreeable remedy for aches and pains, chest colds, flu, coughs, etc. Thousands of sufferers are now being relieved by this new penetrating oil.

For rheumatic pains, neuralgia, crick in the neck, sharp shooting pains in the shoulder, stiff joints and sore throat, apply freely to affected parts. The oil quickly penetrates, bringing relief almost like magic. For chest colds, flu and sore throat, apply freely to affected parts, well greased with vaseline or lard. For coughs or hoarseness take ten drops on a lump of sugar.

Don't continue to suffer longer. Use this new and improved remedy, perfected after years of research and experiment, instead of poisonous habit forming drugs. You will then know what it means to be free from pain.

Refuse imitations. Nothing like this new Anti-Pain Oil formerly known as Snake Oil. Special introductory generous size bottle for 70c. Now being sold and introduced by Ecker's of New Castle, Inc.

Comfortable for hours that's why Kotex is essential in summer

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Safe, secure... keeps your mind at ease.

3—Deodorizes... safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

4—Disposable, instantly, completely.

Regular Kotex—45c for 12 Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12

Ask to see the KOTEX BELT and KOTEX SANITARY APRON at any drug, dry goods or department store.

KOTEX The New Sanitary Pad which deodorizes

It is really amazing how Kotex stays soft for hours, even during the warmest weather.

Other forms of protection may seem comfortable at first. But you know how quickly the pad begins to pack... then how often chafing occurs. All so unnecessary, now that Kotex is so easy to buy!

Kotex is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding... the substance used by 85% of America's leading hospitals. The Cellucotton is laid in many thin layers which permit circulation of air and keep Kotex soft and delicate.

Kotex has rounded corners, so it is inconspicuous. It deodorizes, and is so easily disposed of.

Fred Will Quit Golfing With Sun Down Hereafter

With vacations on, and all the sports and activities that tend to complete camp life, sometimes it isn't so profitable, due to the fact that it often leans a trifle heavy on ones good nature. That seems to be the situation in this case, anyhow, which involves the "golf bug".

The Irwin-Bates camp just two miles out of Volant, last week, was the scene of four local men enjoying themselves to the utmost, who included Harry Irwin, Mr. Dodds, M. R. Bates and Frederick Kenehan. Forming a "four some" a game of golf was indulged in, and dusk was just creeping on.

They proceeded to the sixth hole, and Fred Kenehan had the misfortune of losing his ball. With all hunting very eagerly, someone "accidentally on purpose" laid a nice big hen egg on the fairway and one that was anything but fresh. Others seeing the joke, said "here it is Fred!" and Fred in good faith walks up to the supposed golf ball, and takes a swing at it. Having missed it, he takes another one, with much more care and greater force, and — can you imagine his embarrassment?

His only exclamation was that "that would ruin Bobby Jones game, and what would it do to me?"

JACK PICKFORD AND HIS BRIDE

This photo of Jack Pickford and his bride, the former Mary Mulhern, ex-Follies girl, was taken just after they were married, at Seaside church, Monterey county, California. Pickford's first wife was the late Olive Thomas and the second was the dancer, Marilyn Miller.

Doctor Forgives Patients Who Owed Him $20,000 Fees

SCRANTON, Aug. 19. — In the will of Dr. F. S. Price, of Carbondale, instructions were given to the executors that no attempt be made to collect debts owed to him by hundreds of patients for medical services. He left an estate valued at $75,000 and it was said $20,000 is due the estate on old debts.

Dr. Price always said he believed most of his patients would have paid these bills had they been financially able to do so. He sets aside $10,000 to establish a room in Jefferson Medical College Hospital, Philadelphia, in honor of his mother and wife.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME, HE FINDS

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 19.—Under ordinary conditions Hammond papers might have recorded briefly today under the local notes that "Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brooks have returned from a vacation."

But these were not ordinary conditions. Among the discoveries which Brooks told of making were:

That his house had been on fire.

That a neighbor's cat had eaten the canary.

That Mrs. Brooks' fur coat and seven dresses had disappeared.

"Not to mention," he wailed to police, "that I left the basement lights burning."

GETTYSBURG IS WET AND HAPPY AGAIN WITH RAIN SOAKING

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Aug. 19.—Gettysburg's three "weeks" water famine is ended. It was partly broken when a good rain passed over town and that part of Adams county which feeds Marsh Creek on Friday. Since then several more showers have fallen. Marsh creek is so full the water is running over the breast of the dam.

With the stream full of water industries of the town, forced to shut down because of lack of water have resumed operations. All bans on the use of water have been lifted.

Because of the lack of water it was feared the state convention of the Patriotic Order Sons of America here next week would have to be postponed. This fear is over. The convention will bring about 1500 delegates and guests.

Collections Hold Up, Trade Survey Shows

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Collections of wholesale and manufacturing firms throughout the country are holding up unusually well through the dull season, according to the August Trade Survey conducted by Credit Monthly, publication of the National Association of Credit Men.

The survey, which covers 100 market centers, shows very little change from last month. Two cities, Cedar Rapids and Waterloo, Ia., reported collections good, while only one city reported good collections a month ago. Three cities moved over from the "fair" column to "slow". Of the 100 cities covered, 52 reported collections slow, 46 reported them "fair", and 2 "good".

Romoke, Va., was the only city reporting brisk sales, although 61 other cities characterized sales as "fair" and 38 reported them "slow".

The continued dry weather and the low price of wheat were repeatedly mentioned as unfavorable factors in reports from the farm states, although reports from industrial sections revealed an undercurrent of confidence that conditions will improve in the fall.

Poverty Point Reunion Held

Interesting Event Is Held At Nashua Bridge On Last Saturday

Annual reunion of former pupils of the Poverty Point and No. 9 schools was an event of last Saturday at Nashua Bridge in Pulaski township. The former pupils and their families to the number of 120 were in attendance at the dinner held at noon, while many others attended during the afternoon.

Farmers' Night Is Celebrated By Club

Beaver County Farm Agent Speaks To Farmers And Kiwanis Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 19.—Ross Gridley, county farm agent from Beaver Falls was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis dinner meeting in the Trinity Lutheran church last night. Special guests of the dinner were farmers brought by the club members.

Mr. Gridley discussed at length the farmer and his problems. He divided the problems into two parts, that of weather conditions which the farmer could not control and the business end, which he could control.

Analysing the business of farming, Mr. Gridley illustrated with pictures, the four points necessary for the proper kind of farming.

First—Knowledge to do the right thing.

Second—Industry to do the right thing in time.

Third—Skill to do it well.

Fourth—Business ability to deal with others.

He also spoke concerning the splendid work accomplished by the boys and girls, members of the 4-H clubs, explaining the meaning of the four H's in the following manner: Head, Heart, Hand, Health.

The meeting was in charge of D. A. Hamilton, chairman of the agriculture department in the club.

Farmers, guests of the evening were: F. G. Hazen, William Wright, Roy McDaniel, C. F. Leonard, Fred McQuiston, Gus Gobel, Stanley Sarich, Mr. Gobel, William Walton and Fred Young.

Other guests of the dinner were C. A. Erickson of Chicago, and Arthur Erickson of Sterling, Illinois.

Cloak Returns From Conference

Attends Conference Of Agricultural Committee Of Bankers' Association

That millions of dollars have been added to Pennsylvania Farm incomes through county farm agents placed in 65 of the 67 counties by Pennsylvania State College and the federal government, was an outstanding fact brought out by bankers at the eighth annual conference of key bankers and members of the agricultural committee of the Pennsylvania State Bankers' Association held last week-end at State College.

As one of the 60 key bankers and committeemen at the conference, Mr. C. P. Cloak, Vice President, The First National Bank, Ellwood City, Pennsylvania, upon his return from State College declared a review of banker-farmer activities revealed an astonishing scope of cooperation with the State College extension service for general improvement of farm conditions throughout the State. In almost all counties the bankers, farmers and State College through its county agents, are joining hands in improving agriculture. State banks are now putting almost $30,000 a year into cooperation with upwards of 40 different kinds of agricultural projects, from girls' sewing clubs to sending judging teams and club delegations to Young Farmers' Week and Farm Products Shows.

Taxation costs to the farmers are out of all proportion to those in any other business, bankers learned from college agricultural economics specialists, and they commended the college for studies which it has started in this important phase. It was stated that the farmer cannot progress economically under the present system and bankers urged college workers to continue these studies and evolve, if possible, a tax program based on productivity of the farmer.

Where farmers are no longer able to produce economically college specialists recommended reforestation. In addition to economic problems facing the farmer of today, the bankers learned of the 50-year fertilizer experiment where it was shown that every dollar wisely invested in fertilizer returns two dollars to the farmer, and on a visit to the livestock range saw the advantage of fattening steers on a corn silage ration.

The biggest thrill for the bankers was opportunity on Friday afternoon to meet with the 650 farm club boys and girls who were visiting State College at the same time for the annual Young Farmers' Week. There they saw the direct results of 4-H club work which so many banks of the State have cooperated for many years. Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the college characterized the occasion as representing "the most constructive factor of the world today, the cooperation of the wisdom of maturity with enthusiasm of youth and formative processes of education with its research investigations."

President Hetzel added that the college, through lack of facilities must refuse many requests from various State interests for special research, instructional and extension services, and despite many new replacement buildings must still refuse admission to hundreds of qualified student applicants. Judge Robert R. Lewis, Potter County, until recently Secretary of the Commonwealth, declared this situation deplorable and tragic in view of the concentration of the "pioneer spirit" of the entire State in its State College.

At a 3-hour meeting Friday night Chairman W. McKay, of Greenville, called for reports of activities of key bankers of each county. It was then that the county agents and the college agricultural extension service, directed by M. S. McDowell came in for great praise.

"Our county agent has been worth millions to our county," one key banker declared, "and he gets all the respect and attention of a preacher. It is seldom that he leaves a farm without a donation of a chicken, basket of apples or potatoes. County agents are all right!" Every key banker has commendation for the farm agents, and Director McDowell, responding to the tributes, thanked the bankers for their spirit of cooperation in extension activities, especially in club work which he described as being a most important relation to the development of proper leadership in rural communities, the hope of Pennsylvania's future agriculture.

Warn Campers Not To Use Creek Water

ZELIENOPLE, Aug. 19.—The campers along the Connoquenessing creek have been asked not to bathe, wade, or use the water of the creek in any way. A state inspector has been here for the past several days taking tests of the water, and a report should be received from Harrisburg in the near future, relative to the condition of the water, but on account of the creek being low, and the later being stagnant, campers are warned not to use it.

The water in the Connoquenessing creek is lower than it has been for a number of years. The Y. M. C. A. camp, Camp Kon O Kwee, at Spruce Hill, also the Lutheran camp and Emma Farm camp will all break up in another week. Stagnant streams are usually polluted, and for this reason the inspector warned the campers and all others, that the water must not be used.

GUARDSMEN HERE WILL GET NEW ARMY SHOOTING RANGE

With the leasing of a large plot of ground east of the city from the New Castle Mining & Clay Products company requiring only the signature of the respective parties representing the brick company and local guardsmen, Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, local unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard will acquire one of the best rifle ranges in the state.

The lease is now in preparation and may be signed today by C. H. Andrews, secretary and treasurer of the Brick company and Lieutenant Harvey G. Bintrim, commander of Troop F. The terms of the lease call for a period of three years, during which time the government will pay the rental, which has been reported a very small sum, and provide for the upkeep.

The plot of ground is 1,000 feet from the city between the Harlansburg and County Line roads and is located in a 10 acre plot of the New Castle Mining & Clay Products Company property. The troop will construct a 600-yard range for rifle and automatic shooting. A detailed plan for the rifle range was made in a drawing by Sergeant George F. Seyfert, a member of the troop, last May.

The ground for the course is an abandoned limestone quarry. The floor is level and of solid limestone and fire clay. Autos may be driven across any part of the area during any weather.

The course will be equipped for shooting practice at various distances and will be provided with equipment to make it a regulation army rifle course. A 16-foot concrete "bust" at the far end of the field will contain movable wooden targets. Telephone communication will be available between both ends of the field through equipment of the U. S. Signal corps, which has already been received and is now stored at the Neshamock avenue armory.

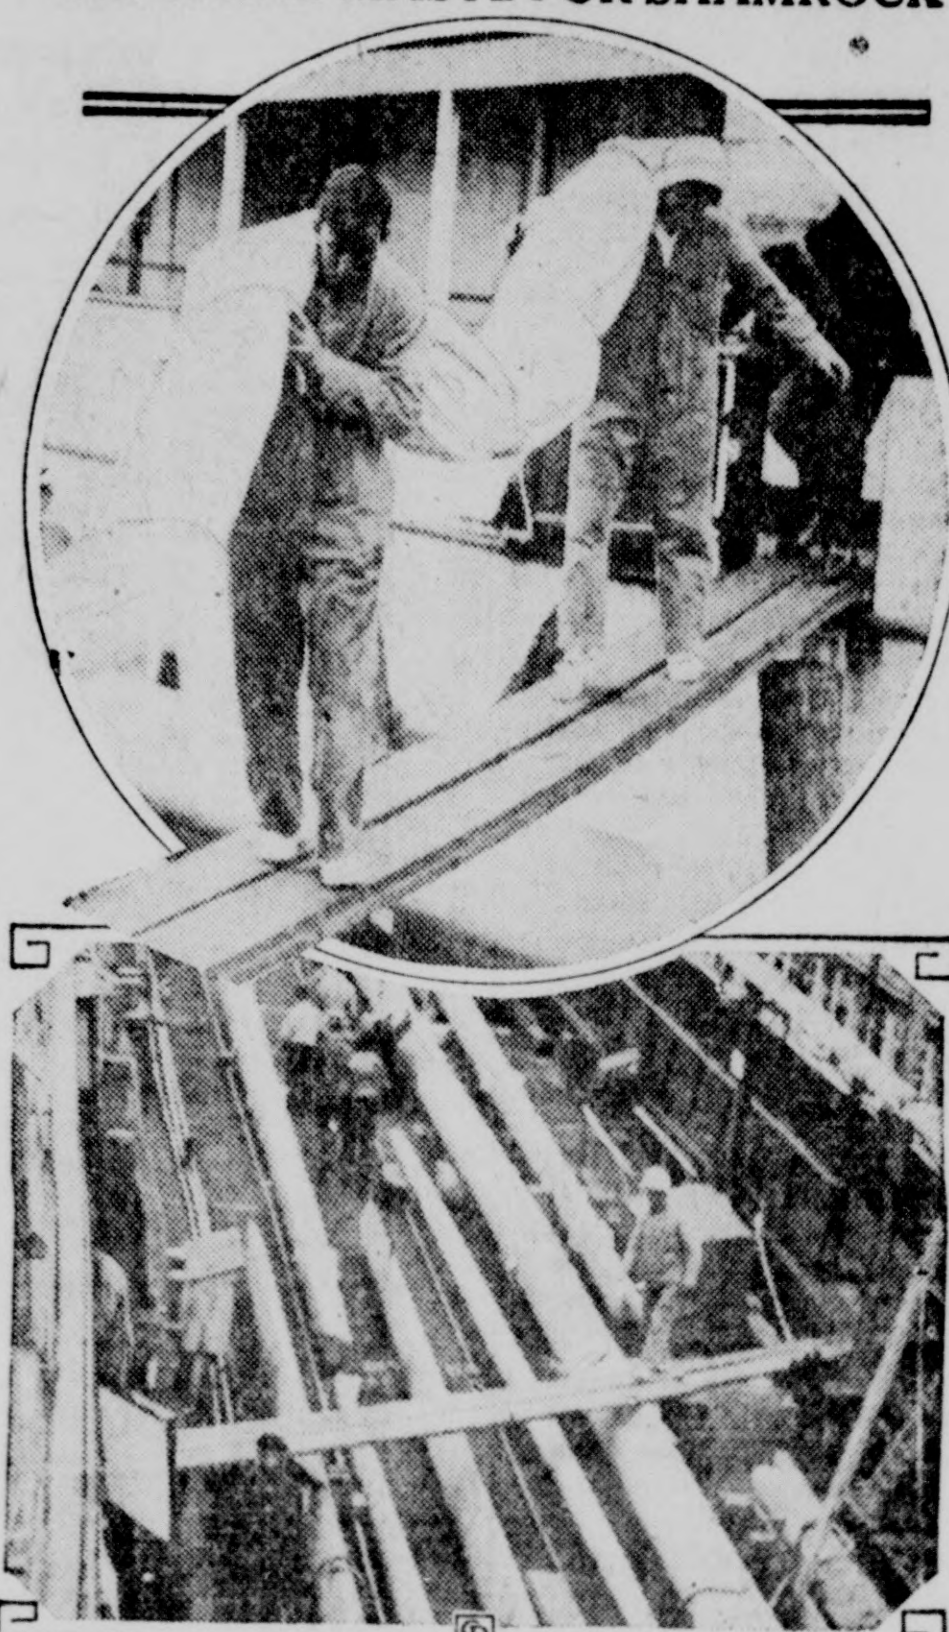

The new rifle course will take the place of the troop's old course at East Brook, for which the lease expired last July. Troop F now has a small pistol course at the West Side rifle stables.

Troop is now seeking a field for use as a mounted pistol course. Since the requirements for qualifications in the mounted pistol course require that the rider keep his mount at a gallop while trying his marksmanship, the troop requires a large area, almost 10 acres, for the particular course.

The brick company field has been characterized as a natural rifle course. The guardsmen will fire into a "mountain" of shale 60 feet high and surrounding three sides of the field.

Lieutenant Bintrim said Monday that the troop will permit civilians to use the rifle range, since the government has encouraged the forming of rifle teams throughout the country.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

School Building Is In Readiness

Building Has Been Cleaned, Portables Painted; Other Seventh Ward Items

When the window shades are raised and when the front door is opened, the Mahoning School will present a pleasant appearance to the crowd of students who will flow into the building on the morning of September 8.

The past three months have not been idle ones for T. A. Johnson and E. M. Thomas, school janitors. Since June 10 until Monday morning the two men have been engaged in washing the walls and ceiling of every room in the building. It has been a tedious job but the appearance of the rooms certainly is a reward.

Aside from this, the fire-escape, outside gratings and the two portables have been painted. The roofs of the portables also received a much needed coat of paint.

HIGH SUN FLOWERS
On the front lawn of the Kubinsky family, Liberty street, there are several

Central Christians Picnic On Saturday

Three Hundred Attend Event—Sports Program Is Feature

Members and friends of the Central Christian church school gathered Saturday afternoon and evening at Lake-wood Beach for their annual picnic with A. W. Bauman, superintendent of the school, seeing that everyone had a good time.

Mrs. Elmer Glass was general chairman of the committees with Elsie Bayham as assistant; the sport committee consisted of Mrs. David T. Nelson, Edna Strobel, John Bayham and William Barber, while Mrs. Walls and Mrs. Cole very effectively looked after the menu, seeing that all sorts of good things to eat were in evidence.

The afternoon program of sports was greatly enjoyed and some elegant prizes, donated by the various classes, were presented the winners in the different events.

Between 150 and 200 sat down to supper and this part of the program was highly enjoyed by everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Richards of Los Angeles, California, were out of town guests.

The program of sports and winners follows: Penny Shower for children, Fifty Yard Dash for boys 5-6 years—Lee Barber, Fifty Yard Dash for boys 6-8 years—Gene Hulbert, Seventy-five yard dash for girls 10-12 years—First, Leone Diks, second, Dorothy Brown, seventy-five yard dash for boys 10-12 years—First, Billy Strobel, second, Harry McConnell.

The sports committee consisted of Mrs. David T. Nelson, Edna Strobel, William Barber, Mrs. Walls was in charge of the menu.

Preaching At Tent Continues This Week

The preaching and evangelistic services being held by the Pentecostal assembly at their tent on East Washington street will continue this week with Mrs. Ida Shuss of Pittsburgh as the speaker.

At the Sunday services Rev. W. L. Shier preached in the morning and at the evening service the tent was crowded to hear Mrs. Shuss speak on "Led by Satan."

The services are held nightly at 7:30.

TENT LIGHT CAUSES DEATH OF CAMPER

CONNEAUT, O., Aug. 19.—Sidney Cohen, 11, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who had been camping with the Pittsburgh Y. M. C. A. here, died today from burns he received when his clothing caught fire from a kerosene tent lamp. Heroic efforts of Richard Gibson, Pittsburgh, to save the boy were unavailing.

Rev. L. M. Reno To Speak Wednesday In Baptist Church

Rev. L. M. Reno, for twenty-six years a missionary in Brazil under the Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, will speak Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the First Baptist church. Mr. Reno's subject will be: "The Old Faith in a New Land." Mr. and Mrs. Reno went to Brazil a quarter of a century ago when the country was undeveloped religiously and when it was hostile to Protestant missionaries. During their long years of service they have seen churches and schools grow up throughout the entire country.

Mr. Reno is the author of a missionary book "Reminiscences," which will be off the press about September first. Of this book a reviewer says: "The attraction of the book lies in the picture the two missionaries have unconsciously given of their inner life. The unusual preparation each one had in early life, their marriage, their oneness of thought and purpose through the ensuing years, the working out thru them, as they believed of God's purposes, takes us back to Old Testament days, when Abraham and Isaac lived as God ordered."

Following the service there will be a meeting of the Advisory Committee of the Church.

Firestone Sees Great Prosperity

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 19.—Harvey S. Firestone, tire manufacturer, told the Cambridge Industrial Association that the present slump in business soon would be succeeded by greater prosperity than America has ever known for 10 years.

To meet depression, he advocated good, hard work and readjustments by business leaders to meet the changing conditions, such as reduced prices and reduced overhead. He agreed with Henry Ford that soon there would be work for everybody.

Girl, 14, and Youth Reported Missing

KITTANNING, Pa., Aug. 19.—Local authorities have been notified of the disappearance of Anna Wright, 14, step-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hawk of Kittanning. The girl has been missing since August 9.

For the same length of time a youth named Fred Clark, also of Kittanning has been missing.

Wesley M. E. Church Will Picnic Wednesday

Everything is in readiness for the annual picnic of the Wesley Methodist church school, which will be held Wednesday at the Crawford home-stand, Harbor street.

The program of sports, games and various kinds of entertainment will begin at 2 p. m. and it is expected a large majority of the congregation will be in attendance.

FARMER ENDS LIFE NEAR CHURCH YARD

BELLAIRE, O., Aug. 19.—A vacant lot between the new Shadyside High school and the Methodist Episcopal Church at Shadyside, was chosen by George T. Ambler, 73, retired farmer, as the spot for firing a bullet through his brain this morning after an illness due to a nervous breakdown.

DON'T BLAME YOUR OIL
for all your carbon troubles
your gasoline may be the cause

Carbon troubles are often caused by poor gasoline. If your motor won't stay clean, if it knocks on hills, over-heats on warm days . . . look to your gasoline as well as your oil and rings to find the cause. Carbon will not stay in a motor unless there are gums to bind it down. And gums are more commonly found in gasoline than in oil.

George Johnson Is City Tennis Champ

Johnson Defeats Attorney Joe McFate By 8-6, 6-4, 6-3
Counts To Win Title

Large Crowd Witness Exciting Titular Contest At Field Club Monday

George Johnson is the Senior Single Tennis Champion of New Castle as a result of his spectacular defeat of Attorney Joe McFate at the Field Club on Monday night in the Sears, Roebuck Senior Single Tennis Finals. A large crowd saw Johnson defeat McFate by scores of 8-6, 6-4, and 6-3. The match proved quite exciting throughout. Johnson who was picked as the winner played up to expectations and looked the part of a real champ. By virtue of his victory Mr. Johnson is the Senior tennis champ of this city and for his efforts will receive a lovely cup donated by the Sears, Roebuck and Company which is sponsoring this tournament as well as the doubles tourney.

The lovely cup will be presented at the end of the doubles tourney. Tull Canziani today submitted the names of entries who have signed to compete in the double tourney. They are: Edward Lewis and Acquaviva; Ginsberg and Levine; Johnson and Barnes; McBride and Denny; L. Lewis and Jones.

The schedule for the Junior and Senior doubles on Wednesday follows:
Juniors
9 a. m. Ritchie and Ray versus Gordon and Howe.
10 a. m. Johnson and Brown versus Davis and McDowell.

Seniors
6 p. m. Woods and Levine versus Haines and Sch.

7 p. m. Lamoree and Johnson versus L. J. Lewis and England.

EMMETT ROCCO BEATS PIRRONE

Pirrone Scores Knockdown But Rocco Pastes Him In Closing Rounds

Emmett Rocco of Ellwood City defeated Patsy Pirrone, of Canton, in a 10-round bout at the Braddock, Pa., bowl last night. Pirrone had the best of the early part of the bout scoring a knockdown for a count of eight in the fourth round but Rocco came through in the last part of the fight and several times it appeared as though Rocco would put Pirrone away.

It was the first fight for Rocco in months. He injured a hand in a bout at Akron and joined the inactive list. He gave the hand plenty of rest and took on Pirrone as a test fight.

Al Zill, manager of Rocco, planned to take Rocco to California to meet Les Kennedy in September.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Lou Gehrig chalked up his thirty-fifth home run of the season when the Yankees defeated Chicago at New York, 11 to 4.

Al Hutchison, Slippery Rock would like to arrange a net match between tennis players of New Castle and Slippery Rock. He could bring from four to six boys and three girls, playing singles and doubles. No doubt Tom Lewis can arrange for this. Hutchison can be reached by writing to box 145 Slippery Rock.

Pittsburgh will be crowded with 1,000 title-seeking performers when the annual national championships of the A. A. U. start Friday and end Monday. Among the entries will be Pete Bowen who recently returned from Germany, Norway, Finland and Sweden. Steve Anderson, hurdler, will also be in the meet.

Fish in Wolfe Creek weren't in a hungry mood yesterday according to an aggregation of Avalon anglers who met along the stream. Armed with grub-worms, night-crawlers and minnows they angled all day and reported they had not had a bite.

Harvey Black got a nice bass a few days ago on artificial bait at the Second dam in the Neshamock and Ed. Fritz, Jr., got one at the Loose Nuts camp.

Ben Sankey, young shortstop, property of the Pirates, has been sent to Bridgeport of the Eastern League.

Dr. S. M. Hill, defending champion, was medalist yesterday at White Sulphur Springs turning in a 70 for the 18 holes.

Giants Tackle Cardinals Today

New York Has Hope Of Winning Pennant Says Report

HACK WILSON HITS HIS 42nd HOME RUN

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Convinced that they are not just a good ball club but actually a championship winner, the New York Giants will attempt to tell the world about it today. They take on the St. Louis Cardinals and if the kayaked Robins continue to slide with the men of McGraw winning the Giants will say their prayers tonight with striking distance of the league leading Cubs.

Paul Waner signed to start a ninth inning rally that finally climaxed in a double by Bartell bringing in two runs which bogged down the flock again as the Pirates won, 4 to 3. The dramatics came after Glenn Wright had homered in the final chapter of the Robins and it looked like a black-out for the Bucs.

Hack Wilson lumbered around the bases after his Homer No. 42 as the Cubs swamped the Phils 17 to 3. The Wilson blow came within one of tying the league record set last year by Chuck Klein of the Phillies. Moody English drew four walks, got one hit and scored five Bruin runs.

The monotonous Athletics continued on their merry way with George Earnshaw—chalking his nineteenth win with the Browns in the 6 to 4 victory. Mickey Cochrane's four-baser started a rally in the eighth that triumphed for the A's.

Hadley was guilty of only six hits and Washington hooked it, 5 to 4. The union Detroit Tigers, Myer, the Senator's keystone, recorded three hits.

Lou Gehrig's Homer No. 35 with two men on high-spotted the Yankees 11 to 4 success over the Chicago White Sox. Herb Pennock was the Yankee hurler.

Other clubs did not play.

Track Athletes Are Gathering At Pittsburgh

National A. A. U. Championship Contests To Start On Friday

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—Track and field luminaries from every state in the union began arriving in Pittsburgh today for tuning up in preparation for the National A. A. U. championships which get under way here on Friday and continue on Saturday and Monday.

Schedules for the events are not yet complete but are being so arranged that an orderly program will insure the running off of each event without confusion.

Reginald "Pete" Bowen, University of Pittsburgh versatile star, is spending his days at the Pitt Stadium getting ready for the three-day test. Pete recently returned from Europe where he chalked up a succession of victories in Germany, Norway, Sweden and Finland.

Steve Anderson, Washington U. hurdling star, also is on the ground. Bowen will sport the colors of the New York A. C. in the A. A. U. competition while Anderson will compete under the colors of the Washington A. C.

Caddie Tournament Will Be Big Event

Large Group Of Boys Will Participate In This Annual Event

There is plenty of interest in the annual golf tournament of the caddies at the New Castle Field Club Monday, August 25. Some of the boys have developed pronounced ability along golfing lines and will make a fine showing.

The number of boys expected to participate in this event is between 80 and 90 and all will be on edge to try and get one of the several valuable prizes that will be awarded the winners in the several groups.

BETTY NUTHALL SEEMS LIKELY TENNIS CHAMP

By MICHAEL J. FOSTER
International News Service Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—"Beat Betty Nuthall" is the cry which reverberates through the Forest Hills stadium today as the thirty-two survivors in the forty-third annual National Women's Tennis Championships resume play in the second round.

For seven long years the cry was "beat Helen Wills" but with little real hope in it.

There is a ring of hope, however, in this new rallying call. For at least a half dozen of the stars who survived their first round tests it is a cheer, urging them onward to further conquests. While on the way to their meetings with "Bouncing Betty" they sharpen their weapons for their attacks on the English star.

Betty looked good yesterday trouncing Louise McFarland, of Pasadena, 6-0, 6-1 in the first round. She hit harder, her service was more severe, her backhand was greatly improved over her performances in 1927 and 1929.

But she is no Helen Wills. Queen Helen would probably have smothered Miss McFarlane with the loss of perhaps half a dozen points in each. The English girl is vulnerable—no doubt about that.

This afternoon Betty meets a rival who may well force her to drop more than one game before she finally comes through the victor. In Mrs. Agnes Lammie, Jr., of the Apawamis Club, the English star opposes a veteran of the courts.

FROM TREE TO GREEN

JOE KIRKWOOD'S STROKE
Central Press Golf Writer.

Joe Kirkwood compiles all the theories and sound fundamentals in his stroke. Golf's basic principles are exercised by him to their utmost, especially when working out his trick shots.

Kirkwood's tricks are nothing more than concrete examples of the form of golf carried to the extreme, in most cases.

If it were not for the emphatic stress put on the hook or the slice, in style and form, Kirkwood would be unable to demonstrate his ability to play good golf for his gallery.

Notice in the illustration how the full iron is played. Study, especially, how the right shoulder comes into the shot. The theory of hitting with the shoulder was never more evident in any player's form than that of Joe Kirkwood. And the weight is all on the left foot and the right knee is bending in towards the ball just as the left was bending on the back-swing.

If you would hold this picture to the light in reverse, you would have Kirkwood at the top of his back-swing, with probably one exception, the position of the head.

Kirkwood at no time leaves his feet nor does his shoulder and body come back as if he had made an extreme effort to hit the ball. The shoulders have pivoted perfectly in around into the ball and the wrists and forearms have done the hitting.

The best way to learn this is in swinging with no ball in front of you. You probably will find it necessary to swing for a full week in order to get the stroke grooved, but once you have the feel of the clubs you have your golf well founded.

The swing is the thing, not the hitting, that comes later and naturally.

West Pittsburgh Topples Energy

West Pittsburgh Wins First Game Of City-County Series, 7 To 2

Braky's excellent pitching along with R. Elssesser's hitting were the chief factors in the West Pittsburgh Garlands' defeat of Energy on Monday night at Energy in the first of a three-game series to decide the baseball champions of the city and county.

The final score was 7-2.

Braky on the mound for the winners but five scattered bingles in seven innings. Hook on the rubber for the losers was found for 11 hits, including three two-base swats. R. Elssesser was the feature hitter for the winners with three hits. McConahy, Steed, Nelson, Barton and Shoaff were the only Energy players able to hit Braky.

Fundoots featured out in the field with a circus catch. The second game of the little Lawrence county series will be played at West Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

Fire Destroys Theater In N. J.

Film Burns As Fire Destroys Theater; Seven Or Eight Spectators Injured

DAMAGE ESTIMATED CLOSE TO $25,000

(International News Service)

PAULSBORO, N. J., Aug. 19.—A disastrous tragedy was narrowly averted here last night when flames swept through Hill's Theater, burning nearly 1,000 spectators. A child and a woman sustained broken limbs in the rush for the exits and at least half a dozen other persons were hurt.

Three firemen also were injured in a fall while fighting the blaze. Two hundred highly excited children milled about on the balcony of the burning building, narrowly escaped harm. Only the timely arrival of Arthur Chambers and Joseph Walters, clerks in a nearby store, prevented them from leaping from the second floor. Aided by Clarence porch, 45-year-old projection machine operator, the two men quieted the children and marched them out of the theater.

The audience on the main floor, however, was panic-stricken and ran wild. Mrs. Anna Moore, 26, and May Clark, 9, had their legs broken in the crush. Another woman was pulled from beneath the feet of the frightened crowd.

A special performance was being held for Fascist sympathizers when the blaze broke out. A strip of film from the Passion Play "The Life of Christ" was running through the machine. When the projection operator noticed the film was broken, he tried to tear it and it burst into flames. The flames showing on the screen, the cry of "fire" followed and a mad rush for the exits began.

The entire interior of the theater was gutted, the balcony falling to the main floor. The expensive organ of the theater was destroyed. Loss was estimated at $25,000.

Close All Pools In Philadelphia

Close Pools To Prevent Spread Of Deadly Malady; Seven Already Die

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—Drastic steps to prevent further spread of the wave of spinal meningitis sweeping the city resulted in all of the city-owned swimming pools being ordered closed today.

Seven children in all have succumbed to the dreaded malady and fully a dozen others are known to be suffering from the disease.

City health officials still insist, however, there is no cause for alarm and that the pools are not the cause of the spread of the dreaded contagion. Dr. Charles B. Haines, chief of the division of communicable disease, said the pools are merely being closed as a precautionary measure and not because they had been found to be insanitary.

The pools will be closed on the basis of so many each day until all have been thoroughly cleaned.

Army Of Rats On Long March

PEIPING AUG., Aug. 19.—From Harbin, the city of "all tales" comes the report that an army of rats is marching through outer Mongolia apparently heading for North Manchuria on way out from Yink, Siberia.

The report states that millions of rats are marching in disciplined fashion under the leadership of different "army corps leaders" and that they seem to know just where they are going. They stop only to gather enough food to sustain them.

Yale Pays $8,720 For Gym Permit

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 19.—New Haven gained an idea of the new Yale gymnasium when application was made for a building permit based on an estimated cost of $4,500,000. Yale paid the city $8,720 for the permit. The gymnasium will be built as a memorial to the late Payne Whitney of New York, by his wife and son. Foundations are being placed for the structure which will be about two years in the building.

Local Nurses To Take Examinations

Nurses from the Jameson Memorial and New Castle hospitals, who were members of the 1930 graduating classes will go to Erie on Friday, August 29, where they will take the state board examinations.

There will be six nurses from the Jameson Memorial hospital in the group and several from the New Castle hospital.

Bite Of Insect Leads To Death

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 19.—An insect bite behind an ear started the chain of infection which caused the death of Jonathan J. Yarrison, aged 50, of 65 N. Pearl street, Spanish-American war veteran who died yesterday at his home after a short illness. The insect bit Mr. Yarrison behind the left ear eight days ago. Infection developed and erysipelas followed, causing death.

The total during the initial week of the campaign had reached 75. Since last night five more violations were turned in.

The newest traffic violations were as follows: Driving through stop signs two; driving through red lights, two;

Voting Machine Contract Awarded At Philadelphia

Five Hundred Machines Are Ordered For Elections In Philadelphia

It was learned this morning that the Philadelphia county commissioners, Philadelphia, Pa., late Monday afternoon awarded the Automatic Voting Machine Corporation of Jamestown, N. Y., a contract involving the procurement of 500 voting machines at an approximate cost of $600,000. Forty of the Jamestown machines were utilized in the first ward of the Quaker City at the spring primary May 20th, 1930, with satisfaction. The action of the board of commissioners is in compliance with the will of the voters who approved the question of adopting voting machines at the 1929 general election by a vote of one majority.

The contract between Philadelphia and the Automatic Co. stipulates that the firm will assist in all work embracing the installation of machines. The Philadelphia authorities contemplate the appointment of several custodians who will be responsible for the care and preparation of machines in subsequent elections.

Aside from Philadelphia, these Pennsylvania communities will employ machines at the general election this fall: Erie, Warren, DuBois, Sharon, Grove City, Farrell, Sharpsville, Greenville, Corry, Lancaster, Hazleton, Wilkes-Barre, Allentown, Scranton and several smaller places. Altoona, Butler, Meadville, Titusville, Williamsport, Sunbury and Bradford voters will decide at the election to decide whether or not voting machines will be adopted.

gold fifty year K. of P. Veterans pin. The exchange of words and gifts, as it were by father and son, was most impressive.

Elwood Man Presides
W. C. McKim of Elwood City, general chairman of the convention, committee, and a member of Alma Lodge, No. 420, Elwood City, presided.

The program was opened with "America" followed by prayer. The official welcome to the city was then extended to the delegates by Major William H. Gillespie. A solo followed.

Then Prof. Charles F. Ball of Marietta Lodge No. 237, welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Pythians of Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties. The welcome to the Pythian Sisters from members of Lawrence, Butler, Beaver and Mercer counties was extended by Past Grand Chief Mrs. Jennie A. Rea of this city and a member of Castle No. 37.

Easton Woman Responds
Following a solo, Anna F. G. Fisher of Easton, Grand Chief of the Pythian Sisters, made the response to the welcome extended the Grand Temple, John C. Wilkes, of Sharon, grand vice chancellor, responded to the welcome extended to the Grand Lodge. The session came to a close with the presentation of the gavel to the grand chancellor and the veterans medal to W. C. Hess, after which the grand lodge went into regular session in the east lodge room of the Cathedral and the Grand Temple went into session in the ballroom of The Castleton.

Open Grand Lodge
The grand lodge was opened in due form and in accordance to the ritual of the order by Grand Chancellor C. W. Herman Hess. The sessions of the grand lodge this morning and this afternoon were devoted to routine business incident to the opening of the grand lodge, the appointment of committees and the hearing of reports, also the approval of credentials of late delegates.

Among the matters of importance reported as being up for consideration will be laws enacted at the Supreme Lodge, which closed its sessions in Tampa Florida on Saturday, the election of officers for the ensuing year and the installation of the new officers, which will be an event of Thursday. A number of contests are predicted for some of the officers.

The grand lodge was honored this morning by an official visit from Edwin Aspinwall, grand keeper of records and seal in the Domain of Connecticut. Before the fraternal greetings of that Domain to the Domain of Pennsylvania.

Temple Sessions Open
Sessions of the Grand Temple were inaugurated this morning in the ballroom of The Castleton, with Mrs. Anna F. G. Fisher of Easton, Pa., the grand chief, presiding and with every grand temple officer present. Approximately 250 delegates were in attendance at the opening session.

Today's sessions will be devoted largely to the hearing of reports, the naming of committees and discussion of regulations to be in effect in the governing of the new home for aged members, which dedicated July 26 at Kincaid, Pa.

Election of various officers of the grand temple and the selection of the group that will have charge of the home at Kincaid will occur Wednesday afternoon.
Mrs. Mabel Weidner of Bethlehem, Pa., the grand senior, will succeed to the office of Grand Chief. There will be contests for the lower offices to parking in front of private driveways one.

Until the end of the month every member of the New Castle Motor club is expected to be active in the campaign and be on the lookout for traffic violators.

Members report the license numbers of cars which figure in violations of traffic rules on cards provided for the purpose. Violators receive letters containing the signature of Mayor William H. Gillespie.

Dinner Program Tonight

The annual dinner for the membership of the two organizations will be an event of this evening at the banquet hall of Cathedral. Eight hundred persons including the delegates and members from Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties will be in attendance.

The dinner program includes pep singing directed by W. O. "Red" Williams with Judy Sypher at the piano. The dinner will be followed by the reception to the grand lodge and grand temple officers and a dance in the Cathedral ballroom.

Wednesday evening, the annual dinner of the Pythian Veterans Association comprising all those who have been members of the Knights of Pythias for twenty five years or more will be held in the Elk's home.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, there will be a pipe organ recital by Prof. Edwin Lewis followed by an entertainment of an elaborate nature in the auditorium of the cathedral.

Delegates were still coming in this morning and at the registration booth in The Castleton, it was stated that the number was rapidly approaching five hundred. It is anticipated that the number of delegates, not to consider visitors, would be over five hundred by this evening.

The registration is being carried on in a very efficient manner by Mrs. Pearl Cook, chairlady, Mrs. Virginia Garrett and Miss Ruth Johnson.

The excellent service rendered at the present convention by the Boy Scouts of the city is receiving favorable comment on every side. They are not only rendering yeomen service this time, but did a wonderful work at the recent C. A. R. convention and are proving one of the big assets in the handling of conventions.

200 Delegates In York Convention

Annual Convention Of Pennsylvania League Of Third Class Cities In York, Penna.

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Aug. 19.—Some 200 delegates, including mayors, councilmen and other city officials, were here today for the annual convention of the Pennsylvania League of Third Class Cities, which opened this morning.

Mayor J. E. Weaver of York welcomed the delegates and President Walter E. Greenwood of the league responded to the mayor's address.

Today's session was given over to presentation of reports by officers of the league and by the executive, legislative, advisory and model city building code committee.

This afternoon delegates were to hear an address by J. E. Fertig on codification of laws relative to third-class cities and were slated to inspect the York water plant.

Business sessions will get under way late tomorrow, with election of officers and selection of the 1931 convention city, while Thursday will be made an open forum for discussion of topics of interest to any city.

Beaver Falls Golf Players Not Coming

There will be no golf match between the Beaver Falls Country club and New Castle Field club at the latter's course Wednesday, according to Bill Dunn. He has received word that owing to the championship tourney at Beaver Falls it will be impossible for the players to come here to play New Castle Field club golfers.

Church Services Are Most Interesting — Personal News Notes

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS (Brython)

A beautiful and interesting service was held at the Emmanuel Baptist Church last Sunday August 17, morning and evening when Miss Ann Jones was at the piano and the congregation sang lovely. At the evening service, Mrs. William Bludorn of Reynolds street rendered a beautiful solo.

News has come to our city from Wales that Noncestown male party came out victorious at the Llanelly National Elsteddod and the Swansea Male Party won the second prize. They won the first prize at Trecorky Rhondda Valley Elsteddod two years ago. The Ystalyfera Musical Choir won the first prize in the Musical Choir competition. This choir is one of the best in England as well as Wales.

Many New Castle people are preparing to cross the line over Youngstown, Ohio next Wednesday to join the Welsh people of that city in their Welsh Reunion. They have arranged a wonderful program for the day. In the afternoon singing will take place under the leadership of the best conductor in the United States.

Benjamin Jones and grand daughter, Miss Ann Jones of East Reynolds street will leave this week for a trip to Cumberland, to visit the son of Mr. Jones and his family.

At the services last Sunday at the Emmanuel Baptist Church the congregation passed a vote of thanks to the committee that arranged the ice cream social last Friday, also to the band, and the conductor, Miss Gladys Thomas, and to the public for attending.

The affair was successful in every detail.

The Star of Wales Lodge No. 60, True Iovites of America will hold a meeting next Saturday evening to hear the report of the delegate Griffith Phillips to the annual convention of the order which was held at Poulney, Vt. He will also give his story of his trip. He had to travel through four states to get to Poulney.

A letter came to hand from the Welsh veteran Thomas Edwards of Pico, California in which he expressed his regret to the city of the sudden death of his old friend John Evans. He also said that the condition of the health of David Williams of Riverside, California is better.

A letter has been received this week from Evan Evans the radio singer of Chicago in which he states that he is thinking of visiting Pittsburgh in the near future. At that time he intends to pay a visit to New Castle. He also intends to sing while here.

Professor R. E. Johns and his son Richard E. Johns, Jr., of Park avenue are having a wonderful time out in Butte, Montana. They are expected to return here next week.

The singing festival will be held at Niagara Falls the last Sunday of this month when Welsh people from all directions are expected to attend.

Lawrence County Lads Compete In Club Contests

County Team Comes In Fifth In Swine Judging Contest At State College

Two teams from Lawrence county participated in livestock and poultry judging contests conducted during the annual 4-H Club Week at State College. Ernest Brittain, Theodore Carr and Frank Hoanson judged in dairy contests, while Edwin Duff, William Brittain and Gaylord Stoughton were judges in the swine classes.

William Brittain was placed as fifth individual of all the contestants in the swine judging contests. The Lawrence county team was placed fifth among the many teams competing.

Suit Filed Against Beauty Shop Owner

Woman Claims Head Was Burned While Receiving Permanent; Sues For $15,000

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Edna C. Clark of Boston, Mass., had suit for damages for $15,000 on file in common pleas court here today against Hilda Mitchell, beauty shop proprietor.

Mrs. Clark alleges in her statement of claim that her head was burned in three places on March 1 last while she was receiving a permanent wave.

She also claims too much heat was applied and says the accident has caused dizziness and other ailments.

Session Of Court To Be Held Monday

A short session of court will be held on next Monday morning, when a number of rules have been made returnable. An opportunity will also be given for the presentation of motions and petitions.

ROBBIE'S TEAM IS THE SAME AS LAST YEAR BUT HIS MAGIC IS TAKING HOLD BETTER

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Artist

Castoffs and discards—but your Uncle Wilbert Robinson has made a pennant-contending team out of them.

Whether or not Robbie's Brooklyn Robins win the National league pennant he must receive a world of credit for what he has done with men generally considered either no longer of big league calibre or past their peak.

Look at the Robins. Outside of Al Lopez, and a few of the younger men, the team is largely made up of men other clubs thought they couldn't use. And everyone of them has been playing great ball.

The Yankees once had the great Dazzy Vance, but let him go. The Browns and White Sox felt the same way about Hollis Thurston. The Browns also let Jim Elliott slip away from them. Adolfo Luque was no longer considered a fine hurler by

Spying On Sports

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor.

That cathedral of pugilism, Madison Square Garden, for all of its mighty structure of steel and stone and its background of 600, more or less, millions, seems to have come in for a bit of heavy opposition.

The Garden, when the late Tex Rickard was in the saddle, had no opposition. It dominated the heavyweight business like a mother-in-law dominating the supper table. Thruout the reigns of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney as heavyweight champions the Garden promoted all the important heavyweight fights except two, and wise old Tex didn't want to have much to do with them. At one, the Dempsey-Billy Miske affair the gate receipts were nothing to speak of, and the other, the Dempsey-Tommy Gibbons show, was an out-and-out bust.

The Garden, unopposed, ran big shows in five states and in the three largest and richest cities, leasing all the first class fight sites: Yankee stadium, the Polo grounds, Soldiers field and other big spots.

After Rickard's death and until a few days ago the Garden had little to worry about opposition. From time to time in New York and elsewhere embryo "Tex Rickards" did spring up to challenge and compete with the Garden, but they all soon laded. Humbert Fugazy was the most powerful of these and the most successful, but in the end he, too, ceased to be important opposition.

Now, however, the scene has changed. Today we find the Garden has almost allowed a promising heavyweight bout to slip out of its fingers and there is a threat that the Garden may lose another, an even bigger affair.

Mique Malloy, a rotund, happy young man from Chicago nearly slipped one over on the Garden by bagging the Jack Sharkey-Primo Carnera bout, a fistie gold mine. The Garden attempted to stop Malloy by offering Sharkey 45 per cent of the receipts for a fight with Vittorio Campolo, but the Boston gob couldn't see it. Then someone "discovered" that the Garden had an optic on the gob's services—and that settled that. But it was a close call.

To add to the Garden's worries Jeff Dickson, the London promoter who successfully staged the Phil Scott-Bill Stribling show over there, is in New York trying to line up the Stribling forces for a heavyweight title scrap with Max Schmeling in Europe.

Even though Dickson isn't rated a very great chance to swing this bit of business, he didn't make the trip to America for his health or to see the new shows. And that's just something else for the Garden to worry about.

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

Poor old Red Faber. The Chicago vet is getting so old about all he can do is beat the Philadelphia Athletics.

Maybe Jack Sharkey will be able to cut this Carnera person down to the status of a heavyweight.

Today's humorous story: "I may never fight in America again," says Max Schmeling in a news dispatch.

Atlanta and Memphis are both claiming Bill Terry as a citizen. But he's winning ball games for only New York.

Maybe it's a mistake to call them Brooklyn Robins. Now they look more like plucked chickens.

Leonard Oop, the quarterback, should prove the best signal caller in the conference after a summer collecting telephone numbers.

Conrad Belch, All-American bench warmer, reports in fine shape for the season, having fully recovered from his attack of splinters.

Joe Doakes, Jr., promising half-back, is practicing squeeze plays by taking daily rides in rumble seats.

More Sauerkraut Center Normal football news and as unimportant as ever.

Baseball is like bridge. It's the slams that count.

Clarence Clearvoice, cheer leader, reports in excellent shape, having spent the summer talking over a telephone in a boiler factory.

Goobar McSmith, the great line plunger, may be lost to the team. He was badly injured while working as floor walker in a bargain basement.

One Brother In Jail, Other In Hospital

ROCHESTER, Pa., Aug. 19.—A fight between two brothers ended with William Ploppert, 28, in the hospital with a stab wound in the back, and James Ploppert, 34, in jail at Beaver. William struck James with a furnace raker, breaking his nose and then James stabbed William with a butcher knife, police say.

Get Needed Rain In Central West

Drought Relief Being Provided By Mother Nature In Corn Belt

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—While the resources of the nation were being mobilized to aid drought-stricken agriculture, old mother nature today had furnished the parched areas more emergency relief in the form of gentle rain.

All along the Missouri valley, from the heart of the wheat belt to the heart of the corn belt, summer showers helped to relieve the drought. There was scattered rain in other sections of the drought area but the Missouri valley was aided the most.

Government weather authorities more natural relief for the stricken states during the remainder of the week. The dry Ohio valley, which has continued to suffer while other sections received rain, may have its local drought ended within the next few days. The weather prophets predicted showers for the Ohio valley and Tennessee, probably tomorrow and again probably Saturday.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Market Gains Made In Early Trading

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The recovery which was under way in yesterday's final period was resumed in the early trading in the stock market today.

New gains of 1 to 3 1/2 points were recorded in a dozen or more of the speculative favorites as bearish traders made a hasty exit from the scene. Strength of the Cotton market, which rallied one dollar a bale, and brighter reports and statements from important industrial quarters, helped the rally in pivotal stocks.

The Amusement stocks were the first to recover the ground lost in yesterday's bear raid. Fox film at 42 showed a 6-point rally from Monday's low level, while Loews sold 2 1/2 points higher. Case Theatres topped 180 in the lead of the high-priced Industrials, up about 4 points on the move. U. S. Steel rallied a point to 166 1/2, on forecasts of a better weekly production summary by the Steel trade authorities. The run-in of the shorts in the Utilities accounted for slightly higher prices for Electric power, American Waterworks, Consolidated Gas and United Corp.

The over-night accumulation of buying orders was exhausted early in the second hour, and the market again lapsed into dullness. Vanadium held around 90, for a gain of 2 1/2 points; Southern Railway forged ahead to 81 1/2, and General Electric sold in good volume above 70. Royal Dutch was the weak spot in the Oils, with a 2-point drop to the year's low price at 46 1/2. Call money renewed at 2 1/2 percent, with 2 per cent bid in the outside market.

Contemplates Visit To Native Scotland

Grant Street Resident Sailing Next Month; Relative To Accompany

Alex Gilchrist, Grant street resident will sail September 6, aboard the steamer Cameronia for a visit of several months to his native land of Scotland, along with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Carr, who is returning to her native home there following an extensive visit with friends here.

Recently, before her departure from the city, Mrs. Carr, whose home is Follicross, Glasgow, was honored at Cascade Park when members of the Ladies' Scottish club and their husbands assembled to greet her.

Mrs. Carr has been on a sightseeing visit for some time, and at the present time is at Niagara Falls, Hamilton and Toronto. She has just completed a visit in Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Carr's husband holds a responsible position with an established firm of internationally known surveyors at Glasgow.

Man And Wife Leap For Lives As Auto Is Hit By Train

MARS, Pa., Aug. 19.—Unable to move his car when a wheel stuck between a rail and planking, J. H. Tannehill, 68, and his wife, of the Evans City district, narrowly escaped almost certain death last night at the Brickyard road crossing in Mars.

When the car was struck by a train, the car was hurled from the track, a total wreck. Later the engine crew returned to the spot with lanterns, but finding the pair unhurt, proceeded on the run.

Tannehill said the wheel of his car lodged between the rail and the loose planking when he became confused in the fog and failed to negotiate the crossing. He labored for five minutes in an attempt to extricate the wheel before the locomotive approached.

The quarantine was placed after a mongrel dog suffering with rabies ran amuck in the community August 1, biting six people and an unknown number of dogs.

The quarantine will be effective until September 1 and any dog running at large, regardless of whether it is licensed or not, will be shot on sight, officers declare.

Capone Blamed For Arrest Of Three Men

Fearing For Governor's Life Capone Causes Arrest Of Trio Of Conspirators

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Al Capone, Chicago vice lord, caused the arrest of three men held in Jacksonville, Fla., for plotting to assassinate Doyle E. Carlton, Governor of Florida, the New York Evening Journal said today in a copyrighted story.

Capone did this, the Journal said, because if Carlton had been killed, he would have been blamed for it. Carlton had many times attempted to oust Capone from Florida and the Journal said it had learned exclusively that Capone, fearing for the CHARLOTTE, Pa., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Frank Yardly, 36, of Locust avenue, Steubenville, O., was cut severely on the face early yesterday when a large bird, believed to have been an owl, crashed through the windshield of her car.

Mrs. Yardly's daughter, Irene, 16, who had been asleep in the seat beside her mother, brought the automobile to a stop at the edge of a 20-foot embankment.

According to the Journal, Capone sent his lawyer, Vincent Giblin, to Jacksonville, and Giblin obtained the confidence of the alleged plotters by offering to furnish a New York gunman to kill the Florida executive.

In his newspaper Eberhardt had attacked the Governor for not forcing Capone to leave Florida.

It was said that Capone heard of the reported plot three weeks ago and immediately informed government agents who in turn told Sheriff W. B. Cahoon of Jacksonville.

The sheriff and agents took action with the three arrests.

Miss Angie was charged by her sister-in-law with taking sun baths while scantily attired in front of the Angle home. She was also charged with disorderly conduct, it being alleged that she abused neighbors.
